BOERS SHELL DUNDEE

Joubert Also Said to Have Attacked Glencoe.

ANOTHER VICTORY BY BRITISH.

Over 400 Boers Killed at Elandslaagte—British Loss Placed at 150—Boers Fought Bravely, but Were Overcome by Artillery Work and Charges.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—A dispatch arrived announcing that the Boers are shelling Dundee, east of Glencoe, at long range, but that their fire is ineffective.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—It is reported here from Glencoe that the Boer force under Commandant General Joubert has attacked, or is about to attack, the British entrenched position at Glencoe.

LADYSMITH, Oct. 23.—The Boer loss at Elandslaagte was estimated at 400. The Boer commandant, General Kock, died of wounds, after being captured.

GLEOCOE CAMP, Natal, Oct. 23.—Heavy firing is now in progress to the northwest of this camp.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—According to a special dispatch from Glencoe camp the British cavalry while pursuing the defeated Boers were engaged by a strong force of the enemy on the North road. Firing is now in progress.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The war office published the following dispatch to the secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, from the general commanding in Natal, Sir George Stewart White, regarding the engagement at Elandslaagte, between Glencoe and Ladysmith, when the British under General French routed the Transvaal forces under General Jan H. M. Kock, second in command in the Transvaal army, who was himself wounded and captured and has since died:

White, commander at Natal, to the secretary of state for war. Filed Ladysmith, Oct. 22, 10:30 a. m.: "In the action at Elandslaagte yesterday the troops engaged were the following: Cavalry—fifth Lancers, a squadron of the fifth Dragoon guards, the Imperial Light Horse and two squadrons of Natal carabiners. Artillery—Twenty-first field battery, Forty-second field battery and the Natal field battery. Infantry—The Devonshire regiment, half a battalion of the Gordon Highlanders and the Manchester regiment. The whole force was under General French, with Colonel Ian Hamilton commanding the infantry.

"I was present in person from 3:30 p. m. to 6:30 p. m., but did not assume direction of the fight, which was left in the hands of General French. Although desultory fighting took place earlier in the day, while reinforcements, sent out later on ascertaining the enemy's strength, were arriving from Ladysmith, the real action did not begin until 3:30 p. m. At that hour the Boers held a position of very exceptional strength, consisting of a rock hill about a mile and a half southeast of Elandslaagte station.

"At 3:30 p. m. our guns took a position on a ridge 4,100 yards from the Boers, whose guns at once opened fire. This fire was generally well directed, but somewhat high. Contrary to previous experiences their shell burst well.

"The Imperial Light Horse moved toward the left of the enemy's position and two squadrons of the Fifth Lancers toward his right. During the artillery duel, mounted Boers pushed out from their left and engaged the Imperial Light Horse. In a few minutes the enemy's guns ceased firing and our artillery was turned on the mounted Boers, who opposed the Imperial Light Horse. The latter at once fell back. After the artillery preparations our infantry advanced to the attack, supported by our guns in the second position. The Devons held the enemy in front while the Manchester regiment and the Gordon Highlanders turned his left flank.

"The Boer guns, although after temporarily silenced, invariably opened fire again on the slightest opportunity and were served with great courage. After several fights our infantry carried the position. At 6:30 p. m. this was accomplished, the enemy standing his ground to the last with courage and tenacity. The Fifth Lancers and a squadron of the Fifth Dragoon guards charged three times through the retreating Boers in the dark, doing considerable execution. "We captured the Boer camp, with tents, wagons, horses and also two guns. The Boer losses were very considerable, including a number of wounded and unwounded prisoners. Among the former are Gen. Jan Kock and Piet Joubert, nephew of Commanding General Joubert.

"One goods train, with supplies for Glencoe camp, and nine English prisoners, were recovered. Our loss, I regret to say, was heavy. It is roughly computed at 150 killed and wounded.

"The collection of the wounded over a large area in the dark and the arrangements for sending them in have occupied our time and attention. A full list will go to you later.

"Our wounded and those of the enemy are now arriving by trains. Besides Boers, we have many Hollanders, Germans and prisoners of mixed nationalities. The behavior of our troops and of the colonial forces was admirable."

Late dispatches did not indicate any general incursion of Boers as yet into Bechuanaland. Along the Orange river everything seemed to be quiet. From Colesburg, Cape Colony, it is reported that all the available burghers of the Orange Free State have been sent north and west.

On the other hand, a messenger from Aliwal North reported that a large body of Boers was advancing toward the Orange river. Refugees are leaving that town in greater numbers daily.

The Boers have mounted a Krupp gun on a bridge commanding the most thickly populated part.

Advices from Cape Town say that a wholesome fear of a rising in Basutoland prevents the Boers invading Cape Colony, and that on the other hand there is considerable excitement at Maseru and other Basuto stations, arising from native apprehensions of Boer attacks.

It appears that colonial news is in some mysterious way supplied to the Boers and that their movements depend largely on intelligence communicated through natives. Disquieting information comes from Herschel and other points in Cape Colony, where the natives are much excited.

The losses in killed and wounded were the subject of pulpit references in all the churches Sunday, especially the Catholic churches, owing to the disasters that befall the Irish Fusiliers.

The vicinity of the war office was crowded all day by anxious inquirers for the latest information. The greatest anxiety and suspense existed regarding the losses at Elandslaagte and as to the fate of the hussars who pursued the Boers from Glencoe. Among the callers at the war office were the lord chief justice of Ireland, Sir Peter O'Brien, who called for particulars as to the Irish troops; Baron MacNaghten, Lord Stanley, Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India; Mrs. Hammersley, whose husband was wounded at Glencoe; Joseph Chamberlain, Arthur J. Balfour, Lady Randolph Churchill and other well known society women.

Typewritten copies of the reports of General Sir George Stewart White were posted on bulletin boards or read to the crowds amid much enthusiasm, while the additions to the list of killed and wounded at Glencoe were received with manifestations of personal bereavement.

The stream of callers at the war office showed little diminution as the evening advanced. Everybody was gratified to read the kindly message from the queen and disappointed at the absence of news from Glencoe, many arguing that communication must be cut off, as otherwise there would be at least some further intelligence as to the condition of General Symons, who, according to an unconfirmed report, died Saturday of his wounds.

The British transports Pavonia and Malta sailed Sunday from Southampton with troops of Sir Redvers Buller's army corps. There was a renewal of the scenes of enthusiasm that marked the departure of the guards Saturday. Enormous crowds gathered at the quay to witness the embarkation.

The transports that were due to sail Saturday evening and last evening from Woolwich and Tilbury were detained in consequence of the heavy fog that had enveloped the London district, seriously impeding the embarkation of troops. It was expected that they would leave to-day.

The departure of the last battalions of the Coldstream guards from Waterloo station Sunday was attended by great crowds, although the fog was so dense that from the sidewalks the troops could scarcely be seen.

Although the fund opened by the lord mayor, Sir John Moore, for the Transvaal refugee has already reached £125,000, his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, and his royal highness, the Duke of Cambridge, chairman of the patriotic relief fund, have addressed petitions to the lord mayor to open a new fund for the widows and orphans of the heroes of the war. This it was expected would be opened today.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—Dispatches received from the front regarding the capture of Elandslaagte show it to have been a brilliant feat of arms. The Boers were strongly entrenched and fought with their wounded bravery. They seized every opportunity of coming into action, and ran to serve their guns whenever they could get a chance.

The British wounded are now being taken to Ladysmith. Every care and attention are also being given to the Boer wounded, who are being dispatched down the country.

KIMBERLEY, Oct. 20.—(By dispatch rider from Orange river.)—This is the sixth day of Kimberley's investment by the enemy. An armored train went out yesterday and found the Boers still in the direction of Spytfontein. Their position is believed to be strong.

Two dispatch riders to Mafeking, Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Harding, were captured by Boers Oct. 15.

Assistant Commissioner Scott shot himself at Seluc, heartbroken at his inability to defend Vryburg, whose inhabitants are disloyal and treacherous.

More spies have arrived. Two Englishmen who had been impressed by the Boers escaped last evening and have just arrived here.

The local tradesmen are proving their loyalty by an agreement to keep down the price of foodstuffs.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—Schiel, a former German officer, who was leading a section of the Boers in the engagement at Elandslaagte, was taken prisoner.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—A message received from Colonel Baden-Powell, in command at Mafeking, dated Oct. 15, says that 53 Boers were killed and a large number wounded in the encounter with his force.

It is believed that the explosion of dynamite at Mafeking, arranged by Colonel Baden-Powell, resulted in very large loss to the Boers, so that it is quite probable that General Cronje will not resume the attack and will perhaps retire altogether.

THE QUEEN MOURNS.

Asks That Condolences Be Sent to the Relatives of Those Who Fell In Battle.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, received the following message from the queen, dated at Balmoral castle:

"My heart bleeds for these dreadful losses again today. It is a great success, but I fear, very dearly bought. Would you convey my warmest and heartfelt sympathy with the near relatives of the fallen and wounded and my admiration of the conduct of those they have lost. V. R. I."

Typhoid Epidemic In Delaware.

LAUREL, Del., Oct. 23.—Ney in the history of this peninsula has there been so much typhoid as this year. It has been epidemic in nearly every town. At Sykes island about 30 deaths have occurred and there are scores of people critically ill. Greenwood has an epidemic. Laurel has had more cases than in ten years combined. There were 11 ill in one square at one time. Joseph Elliott, a young man, died here after the third attack. It is thought the refuse from the various canning factories has caused the contagion.

Perished In a Blizzard.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 23.—Nine men perished in the recent blizzard. Five bodies have been recovered, and it is probable this is not half the list. The last body found was that of H. Herald, a sheep herder. The sheep had eaten off his beard, clothing and part of his boots.

Fatal Result of Prizefight.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—William Wilke, aged 19, died about one hour after receiving blows on the nose, jaw and pit of the stomach in a prizefight with Charles Chelius, aged 19, in the basement of the Wilke home. The boys belonged to amateur clubs and fought for a $5 purse. Chelius was arrested.

Captured by the Boers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Eugene Easton of Kansas City, a newspaper man, has been captured by the Boer forces in South Africa, and the state department is now negotiating with the Transvaal authorities looking to his release.

Denby and Worcester Reached Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Colonel Charles Denby and Prof. Dean Conant Worcester, special commissioners to the Philippines, enroute from Vancouver to Washington, reached Chicago.

DESPERATE BANDITS

Pair Surrounded by Posse Near Atchison, Kan.

KILLED TWO MEN; WOUNDED TWO.

Held Up Men In a Store, Killed One and Wounded Another, Robbed the Money Drawer and Fled—Ambushed Pursuers and Killed One.

ATCHISON, Kan., Oct. 23.—Two robbers shot and killed one man and wounded another in a store at Doniphon, which they later robbed, and ambushed and killed a policeman and wounded another man, both members of a posse pursuing them. The robbers are surrounded six miles north of Atchison.

The Dead.

John Brown, Doniphon.
Robert N. Dickinson, Atchison.

Wounded.

Charles Kuchs, Doniphon.
James Hayes, Atchison.

ATCHISON, Kan., Oct. 23.—Charles Kuchs and several other men were in Kuchs' store at Doniphon when two robbers came in and pointed revolvers at them. Kuchs and John Brown made a movement to resist. Both robbers fired. Brown was killed and Kuchs wounded in the arm. Kuchs and the others fled and the robbers looted the money drawer and left.

MITCHELL ON THE TICKET.

Chosen by Pennsylvania Republican State Committee to Take the Place of Adams.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The Republican state ticket is again complete.

Ex-United States senator, ex-member of the lower house of the state legislature, ex-member of the national house of representatives and present Judge of Common Pleas John I. Mitchell of Tioga county was nominated for judge of the superior court by the Republican state committee to fill the vacancy on the party ticket occasioned by the withdrawal of Josiah R. Adams.

Ninety-four of the 110 committee men answered to their names.

Ex-Congressman W. C. Arnold of Clearfield county was on hand with a sentiment from his section in opposition to Judge Mitchell. Ex-Congressman Arnold circulated for several hours among the members of the state committee prior to the meeting, explaining the fact that he did not favor Judge Mitchell, because the ex-senator was kindly looked upon by some people who had been classed as insurgents, but he soon found that his opposition to the will of the leaders was not likely to be productive of successful results, and he refrained from making his objections too prominent.

As soon as the committee was in order Chairman Reeder said that unusual conditions confronted the party representatives, and that it was necessary to name a candidate for judge of the superior court to take the place of Josiah R. Adams, who had yielded to the pressure of public sentiment and retired from the field. Chairman Reeder declared incidentally that Mr. Adams was entitled to great praise for his self-sacrifice in yielding up his candidacy.

General H. H. Bingham, member of congress from the first district of this city, in a brilliant and eloquent speech placed ex-Senator Mitchell in nomination.

As soon as General Bingham had finished his speech Congressman Brunn of Schuylkill county was recognized by Chairman Reeder as a seconder of Judge Mitchell's nomination.

He was followed by ex-State Senator Thomas V. Cooper of Delaware county, who read a letter from V. Gilpin Robinson, asking his friends to stand with the majority in the selection of the candidate. Mr. Robinson had been suggested. Ex-Senator Cooper made an additional seconding speech in behalf of Mitchell, and the motion to make the nomination by acclamation was unanimously carried.

IN MISS WILLARD'S OLD HOME.

W. C. T. U. National Headquarters Will Be in Evanston.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 23.—The W. C. T. U. convention adopted an amendment to the constitution removing the headquarters of the national organization from Chicago, where they have been located for many years, to Evanston, Ills., at Rest cottage, the late home of Frances Willard. The amendment making national organizers members of the executive committee of the union was voted down after considerable debate. Another amendment making state secretaries of the Loyal Temperance Legion ex-officio delegates to the national conventions was carried without opposition.

The afternoon program was largely given over to the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the formation of the union.

BRYAN GONE TO NEBRASKA.

He Made the Last Speech of His Ohio Tour at Sandusky—Spoke at Other Places.

SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 23.—Colonel William J. Bryan closed his Ohio tour here. He then left for Nebraska.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 23.—Judge Smalley presided at the meeting here and presented Mr. McLean, who in turn introduced Mr. Bryan. The Nebraskan referred to the paying of a tax on each telegram for the benefit of "benevolent assimilation," by the mother of the son killed in the Philippines, inquiring as to the disposition of his body. And why? Because the telegraph companies had more influence with a Republican congress than the common people.

FREMONT, O., Oct. 23.—At Fremont a reception committee and a good crowd met the Bryan train at the depot and escorted the visitors to the courthouse square, half a mile distant, where a large crowd had assembled. John R. McLean introduced Mr. Bryan, who thanked the audience for their fealty to the Chicago platform in 1896, and hoped they would give Mr. McLean a greater majority this fall.

The train stopped at Fostoria for a few moments, during which time Mr. Bryan appeared upon the platform in response to calls of the crowd present. There were expressions of kindly greeting, handshaking, and a few references to the campaign of 1896, to all of which Mr. Bryan responded in a conversational way, making no formal speech.

TIFFIN, O., Oct. 23.—In front of the courthouse an audience estimated at 4,000 greeted Mr. Bryan cordially.

At Clyde a large crowd greeted the party, and brief addresses were made by Mr. McLean and Mr. Bryan.

HOT CAMPAIGN FOR NEBRASKA.

Bryan to Tour, and Republicans Have Secured Good Campaigners.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 23.—Beginning tomorrow morning, W. J. Bryan will make the most elaborate county by county and town by town canvass he has ever made in Nebraska, not excepting the year he ran for president. On a special train, he will travel over nearly every line of railroad in the state and will make over 100 speeches, concluding at Lincoln on the Saturday before election, when he will be assisted by ex-Governor Altgeld.

The Republican committee has secured some of the best known campaigners in the country, and the canvass for the two remaining weeks will be as exciting as that of a presidential year.

Congress to Look Into Carter Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Congress, it is understood, will be asked to investigate the Carter case and all the facts leading up to the conviction of the former engineer captain. Representative De Armond of Missouri announced his intention of introducing a resolution to have the matter investigated, especially with a view of ascertaining how far Carter's alleged civil associates, the contractors, profited by the frauds, and steps taken by the government to protect itself.

Chappelle Saw McKinley.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Archbishop Chappelle of New Orleans, apostolic delegate to the Philippines, was at the White House and had a long talk with the president on the church situation in the Philippines. In view of his coming trip to Manila, Archbishop Chappelle was anxious to secure from the

MITCHELL ON THE TICKET.

Chosen by Pennsylvania Republican State Committee to Take the Place of Adams.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The Republican state ticket is again complete.

Ex-United States senator, ex-member of the lower house of the state legislature, ex-member of the national house of representatives and present Judge of Common Pleas John I. Mitchell of Tioga county was nominated for judge of the superior court by the Republican state committee to fill the vacancy on the party ticket occasioned by the withdrawal of Josiah R. Adams.

Ninety-four of the 110 committee men answered to their names.

Ex-Congressman W. C. Adams, who had yielded to the pressure of public sentiment and retired from the field. Chairman Reeder declared incidentally that Mr. Adams was entitled to great praise for his sacrifice in yielding up his candidacy.

General H. H. Bingham, member of congress from the First district of this city, in a brilliant and eloquent speech placed ex-Senator Mitchell in nomination.

As soon as General Bingham had finished his speech Congressman Brunn of Schuylkill county was recognized by Chairman Reeder as a seconder of Judge Mitchell's nomination.

BOERS SHELL DUNDEE

Joubert Also Said to Have Attacked Glencoe.

ANOTHER VICTORY BY BRITISH.

Over 400 Boers Killed at Elandslaagte—British Loss Placed at 150—Boers Fought Bravely, but Were Overcome by Artillery Work and Charges.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—A dispatch arrived announcing that the Boers are shelling Dundee, east of Glencoe, at long range, but that their fire is ineffective.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—It is reported here from Glencoe that the Boer force under Commandant General Joubert has attacked, or is about to attack, the British entrenched position at Glencoe.

LADYSMITH, Oct. 23.—The Boer loss at Elandslaagte was estimated at 400. The Boer commandant, General Kock, died of wounds, after being captured.

GLEOCOE CAMP, Natal, Oct. 23.—Heavy firing is now in progress to the northwest of this camp.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—According to a special dispatch from Glencoe camp the British cavalry while pursuing the defeated Boers were engaged by a strong force of the enemy on the North road. Firing is now in progress.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The war office published the following dispatch to the secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, from the general commanding in Natal, Sir George Stewart White, regarding the engagement at Elandslaagte, between Glencoe and Ladysmith, when the British under General French routed the Transvaal forces under General Jan H. M. Kock, second in command in the Transvaal army, who was himself wounded and captured and has since died:

White, commander at Natal, to the secretary of state for war. Filed Ladysmith, Oct. 22, 10:30 a. m.: "In the action at Elandslaagte yesterday the troops engaged were the following: Cavalry—fifteen Lancers, a squadron of the Fifth Dragoon guards, the Imperial Light Horse and two squadrons of Natal carabiniers. Artillery—Twenty-first field battery, Forty-second field battery and the Natal field battery. Infantry—The Devonshire regiment, half a battalion of the Gordon Highlanders and the Manchester regiment. The whole force was under General French, with Colonel Ian Hamilton commanding the infantry.

"I was present in person from 3:30 p. m. to 6:30 p. m., but did not assume direction of the fight, which was left in the hands of General French. Although desultory fighting took place earlier in the day, while reinforcements, sent out later on ascertaining the enemy's strength, were arriving from Ladysmith, the real action did not begin until 3:30 p. m. At that hour the Boers held a position of very exceptional strength, consisting of a rock hill about a mile and a half southeast of Elandslaagte station.

"At 3:30 p. m. our guns took a position on a ridge 4,100 yards from the Boers, whose guns at once opened fire. This fire was generally well directed, but somewhat high. Contrary to previous experiences their shell burst well.

"The Imperial Light Horse moved toward the left of the enemy's position and two squadrons of the Fifth Lancers toward his right. During the artillery duel, mounted Boers pushed out from their left and engaged the Imperial Light Horse. In a few minutes the enemy's guns ceased firing and our artillery was turned on the mounted Boers, who opposed the Imperial Light Horse. The latter at once fell back. After the artillery preparations our infantry advanced to the attack, supported by our guns in the second position. The Devons held the enemy in front while the Manchester regiment and the Gordon Highlanders turned his flank.

"The Boer guns, although after temporarily silenced, invariably opened fire again on the slightest opportunity and were served with great courage. After several fighting our infantry carried the position. At 6:30 p. m. this was accomplished, the enemy standing his ground to the last with courage and tenacity. The Fifth Lancers and a squadron of the Fifth Dragoon guards charged three times through the retreating Boers in the dark, doing considerable execution. "We captured the Boer camp, with tents, wagons, horses and also two guns. The Boer losses were very considerable, including a number of wounded and unwounded prisoners. Among the former are Gen. Jan Kock and Piet Joubert, nephew of Commanding General Joubert.

"One goods train, with supplies for Glencoe camp, and nine English prisoners, were recovered. Our loss, I regret to say, was heavy. It is roughly computed at 150 killed and wounded.

"The collection of the wounded over a large area in the dark and the arrangements for sending them in have thus far occupied our time and attention. A full list will go to you later.

"Our wounded and those of the enemy are now arriving by trains. Besides Boers, we have many Hollanders, Germans and prisoners of mixed nationalities. The behavior of our troops and of the colonial forces was admirable."

Late dispatches did not indicate any general incursion of Boers as yet into Dechanaatland. Along the Orange river everything seemed to be quiet. From Colesburg, Cape Colony, it is reported that all the available Burghers of the Orange Free State have been sent north and west.

On the other hand, a messenger from Alhwal North reported that a large body of Boers was advancing toward the Orange river. Refugees are leaving that town in greater numbers daily. The Boers have mounted a Krupp gun on a bridge commanding the most thickly populated part.

Advices from Cape Town say that a wholesome fear of a rising in Basutoland prevents the Boers invading Cape Colony, and that on the other hand there is considerable excitement at Elandslaagte, was taken prisoner.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—A message received from Colonel Baden-Powell, in command at Mafeking, dated Oct. 15, says that 53 Boers were killed and a large number wounded in the encounter with his force.

It is believed that the explosion of dynamite at Mafeking, arranged by Colonel Baden-Powell, resulted in very large loss to the Boers, so that it is quite probable that General Cronje will not resume the attack and will perhaps retire altogether.

The losses in killed and wounded were the subject of pulpit references in all the churches Sunday, especially the Catholic churches, owing to the disasters that befel the Irish Fusiliers.

The vicinity of the war office was crowded all day by anxious inquirers for the latest information. The greatest anxiety and suspense existed regarding the losses at Elandslaagte and as to the fate of the Hussars who pursued the Boers from Glencoe. Among the callers at the war office were the lord chief justice of Ireland, Sir Peter O'Brien, who called for particulars as to the Irish troops; Baron MacNaughton, Lord Stanley, Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India; Mrs. Hammersley, whose husband was wounded at Glencoe; Joseph Chamberlain, Arthur J. Balfour, Lady Randolph Churchill and other well known society women.

Typewritten copies of the reports of General Sir George Stewart White were posted on bulletin boards or read to the crowds amid much enthusiasm, while the additions to the list of killed and wounded at Glencoe were received with manifestations of personal rejoicing.

The stream of callers at the war office showed little diminution as the evening advanced. Everybody was gratified to read the kind message from the queen and disappointed at the absence of news from Glencoe, many arguing that communication must be cut off, as otherwise there would be at least some further intelligence as to the condition of General Symons, who, according to an unconfirmed report, died Saturday of his wounds.

The British transports Pavonia and Malta sailed Sunday from Southampton with troops of Sir Redvers Buller's army corps. There was a renewal of the scenes of enthusiasm that marked the departure of the guards Saturday. Enormous crowds gathered at the quay to witness the embarkation.

The transports that were due to sail Saturday evening and last evening from Woolwich and Tilbury were detained in consequence of the heavy fog that had enveloped the London district, seriously impeding the embarkation of troops. It was expected that they would leave today.

The departure of the last battalions of the Coldstream guards from Waterloo station Sunday was attended by great crowds, although the fog was so dense that from the sidewalks the troops could scarcely be seen.

Although the fund opened by the lord mayor, Sir John Moore, for the Transvaal refugee has already reached £125,000, his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, and his royal highness, the Duke of Cambridge, chairman of the patriotic relief fund, have addressed petitions to the lord mayor to open a new fund for the widows and orphans of the heroes of the war. This it was expected would be opened today.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—Dispatches received from the front regarding the capture of Elandslaagte show it to have been a brilliant feat of arms. The Boers were strongly entrenched and fought with their wonted bravery. They seized every opportunity of coming into action, and ran to serve their guns whenever they could get a chance.

The British wounded are now being taken to Ladysmith. Every care and attention are also being given to the Boer wounded, who are being dispatched down the country.

KIMBERLEY, Oct. 20.—(By dispatch rider from Orange river.)—This is the sixth day of Kimberley's investment by the enemy. An armored train went out yesterday and found the Boers still in the direction of Spytfontein. Their position is believed to be strong.

Two dispatch riders to Mafeking, Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Harding, were captured by Boers Oct. 15.

Assistant Commissioner Scott shot himself at Seluc, heartbroken at his inability to defend Vryburg, whose inhabitants are disloyal and treacherous.

More spies have arrived. Two Englishmen who had been impressed by the Boers escaped last evening and have just arrived here.

The local tradesmen are proving their loyalty by an agreement to keep down the price of foodstuffs.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—Schiel, a former German officer, who was leading a section of the Boers in the engagement at Elandslaagte, was taken prisoner.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—A message received from Colonel Baden-Powell, in command at Mafeking, dated Oct. 15, says that 53 Boers were killed and a large number wounded in the encounter with his force.

It is believed that the explosion of dynamite at Mafeking, arranged by Colonel Baden-Powell, resulted in very large loss to the Boers, so that it is quite probable that General Cronje will not resume the attack and will perhaps retire altogether.

THE QUEEN MOURNS.

Asks That Condolences Be Sent to the Relatives of Those Who Fell in Battle.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, received the following message from the queen, dated at Balmoral castle:

V. R. I."

Typhoid Epidemic in Delaware.

LAUREL, Del., Oct. 23.—Never in the history of this peninsula has there been so much typhoid as this year. It has been epidemic in nearly every town. At Sykes island about 30 deaths have occurred and there are scores of people critically ill. Greenwood has an epidemic. Laurel has had more cases than in ten years combined. There were 11 ill in one square at one time. Joseph Elliott, a young man, died here after the third attack. It is thought the refuse from the various canning factories has caused the contagion.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 23.—Nine men perished in the recent blizzard. Five bodies have been recovered, and it is probable this is not half the list. The last body found was that of H. Herald, a sheep herder. The sheep had eaten off his beard, clothing and part of his boots.

MITCHELL ON THE TICKET.

Chosen by Pennsylvania Republican State Committee to Take the Place of Adams.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The Republican state ticket is again complete.

Ex-United States senator, ex-member of the lower house of the state legislature, ex-member of the national house of representatives and present Judge of Common Pleas John I. Mitchell of Tioga county was nominated for judge of the superior court by the Republican state committee to fill the vacancy on the party ticket occasioned by the withdrawal of Josiah R. Adams.

Ninety-four of the 110 committee men answered to their names.

Ex-Congressman W. C. Arnold of Clearfield county was on hand with a sentiment from his section in opposition to Judge Mitchell. Ex-Congressman Arnold circulated for several hours among the members of the state committee prior to the meeting, explaining the fact that he did not favor Judge Mitchell, because the ex-senator was kindly looked upon by some people who had been classed as insurgents, but he soon found that his opposition to the will of the leaders was not likely to be productive of successful results, and he refrained from making his objections too prominent.

As soon as the committee was in order Chairman Reeder said that unusual conditions confronted the party representatives, and that it was necessary to name a candidate for judge of the superior court to take the place of Josiah R. Adams, who had yielded to the pressure of public sentiment and retired from the field. Chairman Reeder declared incidentally that Mr. Adams was entitled to great praise for his self-sacrifice in yielding up his candidacy.

General H. H. Bingham, member of congress from the First district of this city, in a brilliant and eloquent speech placed ex-Senator Mitchell in nomination.

As soon as General Bingham had finished his speech Congressman Brumm of Schuylkill county was recognized by Chairman Reeder as a seconder of Judge Mitchell's nomination.

He was followed by ex-State Senator Thomas V. Cooper of Delaware county, who read a letter from V. Gilpin Robinson, asking his friends to stand with the majority in the selection of the candidate. Mr. Robinson had been suggested. Ex-Senator Cooper made an additional seconding speech in behalf of Mitchell, and the motion to make the nomination by acclamation was unanimously carried.

The Nebraskan referred to the paying of a tax on each telegram for the benefit of "benevolent assimilation," by the mother of the son killed in the Philippines, inquiring as to the disposition of his body. And why? Because the telegraph companies had more influence with a Republican congress than the common people.

FREMONT, O., Oct. 23.—At Fremont a reception committee and a good crowd met the Bryan train at the depot and escorted the visitors to the courthouse square, half a mile distant, where a large crowd had assembled. A Small Fire In East End Saturday Afternoon—All Kilns at the National Pottery Topped Out—John Arnold Shot a Dog. Another Press For Laughlin's.

Charles Herbert, a presser employed at the East End pottery, met with an accident Saturday that has caused him to look as if he had been fighting in the Philippines. He was riding his bicycle home from work and ran into a ditch. To start with, the bike was taken to a hospital for repairs. The rider when he struck the ground fractured his left arm in two places above and below the elbow, received several gashes on his right knee, cut his lower hip, was scratched about eyes and nose, and to end with, the little finger of his left hand was knocked out of joint. Herbert now says he will refuse to ride any more this season.

KILNS COMPLETED.

Rodger is no more. Rodger is a dog that has been about the East End fire station since March, but Saturday morning Fireman Terrence suggested to John Arnold, of the National pottery, it was time for the dog to be killed, as it had been acting strangely for several days. Arnold took it to the hills, killed it and he is now wearing a medal for excellent marksmanship.

NO GAMES.

The Football Team Has No Games and the Manager Is Not Booking Any.

The prospect for having any Rugby football games played here this year is not very promising. #### Manufacturers Want to Burn Gas by Contract.

GAS COMPANIES WILL BE ASKED

To Take Out their Meters and Enter Into a Contract With the Potters at So Much Per Kiln—Manufacturers Think They Will Save Money by the Plan.

It is rumored that a number of the potters of the city will request the gas companies to take out meters, and in the future charge so much per kiln for the gas used. The manufacturers are of the opinion that they can save money by burning gas by the contract as the meter system is not at all satisfactory to them. They claim that in using meters they are sometimes compelled to pay almost double what it should cost to fire a kiln and think the contract system would do away with this state of affairs.

They will hold a meeting soon, at which some definite action will be taken. It is not known how the gas companies will take to the idea.

Some Pertinent Questions That Can Be Answered With One Reply.

Why is it that in East Liverpool and its suburbs with a combined population of 1,400 there is only one medical preparation which gives statements from residents to back up its representations?

Why is it that Doan's Kidney Pills do this in East Liverpool as in every other town and city of any importance in the Union?

Why is it that there are advertised in every newspaper a dozen remedies and only one can supply local proof, local endorsement of its claims?

The solution of the problem is simple. Only one remedy has the curing and staying power. Other remedies make all kinds of gigantic yet futile efforts to get local proof but the attempt ends in producing a statement or two from places that as far as East Liverpool is concerned might just as well live in the moon.

There is East Liverpool proof which backs up the merits.

Mrs. William James who lives at 283 Third street, says: "I was troubled off and on for eight years with a weakness of the back and kidneys, a dull aching pain across my loins, up under my shoulder blades and rheumatic pains in my right shoulder. I was very susceptible to changes in the weather and was so bad at times that I could scarcely stand and support my own weight. The trouble affected my nervous system, causing a frequent fluttering of the heart and shortness of breath. I generally resorted to porous plasters, but the relief was only temporary. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and obtained instant relief. The symptoms all left, and there was nothing wrong with my kidneys after the treatment."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Charles Herbert Received Many Injuries

WHILE RIDING A BICYCLE

A Small Fire in East End Saturday Afternoon—All Kilns at the National Pottery Topped Out—John Arnold Shot a Dog. Another Press for Laughlin's.

Charles Herbert, a presser employed at the East End pottery, met with an accident Saturday that has caused him to look as if he had been fighting in the Philippines. He was riding his bicycle home from work and ran into a ditch.

To start with, the bike was taken to a hospital for repairs. The rider when he struck the ground fractured his left arm in two places above and below the elbow, received several gashes on his right knee, cut his lower hip, was scratched about eyes and nose, and to end with, the little finger of his left hand was knocked out of joint. Herbert now says he will refuse to ride any more this season.

KILNS COMPLETED.

Those at the National Topped Out Saturday Morning.

The last kiln at the National pottery was topped out Saturday morning and everything is now ready to build the floor and furnaces. A force of bricklayers were to go to work on the walls of the clay shops this morning and the contractors are of the opinion this part of the work will be finished within the next two weeks. From a reliable source it is learned a number of applications have been filed with officers of the company by men who want to work at the new plant.

SMALL BLAZE.

The house is within a short distance of the fire station.

ANOTHER PRESS.

One May be Added to Laughlin's New Pottery.

Room has been left in the clay shop of Laughlin's new pottery for another press. There are three presses now in the plant, and another will be installed soon. Everything is about in readiness to start the plant, but the company is experiencing some trouble in securing clay.

Killed the Dog.

Rodger is no more. Rodger is a dog that has been about the East End fire station since March, but Saturday morning Fireman Terrence suggested to John Arnold, of the National pottery, it was time for the dog to be killed, as it had been acting strangely for several days. Arnold took it to the hills, killed it and he is now wearing a medal for excellent marksmanship.

The prospect for having any Rugby football games played here this year is not very promising. Manufacturers Want to Burn Gas by Contract.

GAS COMPANIES WILL BE ASKED

To Take Out their Meters and Enter Into a Contract With the Potters at So Much Per Kiln—Manufacturers Think They Will Save Money by the Plan.

It is rumored that a number of the potters of the city will request the gas companies to take out meters, and in the future charge so much per kiln for the gas used. The manufacturers are of the opinion that they can save money by burning gas by the contract as the meter system is not at all satisfactory to them. They claim that in using meters they are sometimes compelled to pay almost double what it should cost to fire a kiln and think the contract system would do away with this state of affairs.

They will hold a meeting soon, at which some definite action will be taken. It is not known how the gas companies will take to the idea.

Talk of Building a New County Infirmary.

BROOKE COUNTY WANTS HELP

From Hancock—Work at the Mill Being Held Back on Account of Scarcity of Material—Three Women Baptised—News of Chester and Vicinity.

During the past few weeks there has been some talk among officials of Hancock and Brooke counties about building a county infirmary to be supported by both counties. The matter has caused no little talk in Chester and those who have been seen favor the plan. The best and cheapest method of keeping the poor has always been a problem and possibly always will be. Without mentioning the details that could be arranged in this matter it would be beneficial to both counties. The expenses would be much less than that at present. In speaking of this matter the Wellsburg Herald says:

No plan will ever be found that will not be objected to, but we see no reason why an establishment, modeled nearly after the plan in the Ohio and Pennsylvania counties on either side of us, might not be what we want. The main objection to Brooke county is the limited population, but that will be in a great degree remedied if Hancock county can see her way to go in with us.

COMPLETED SOON.

Stand Pipe at the Mill Will Be Finished Next Saturday.

The stand pipe at the new mill will be completed by the last of the week, but no use will be made of it until the pump house is completed. It will be many weeks before the foundation for the latter will be completed, as the company is having some trouble in getting brick and cement. The foundation for the office building will not be completed until the last of the week, when the carpenters will commence their part of the work.

THREE BAPTISED.

Talk of Building a New County Infirmary.

BROOKE COUNTY WANTS HELP

From Hancock—Work at the Mill Being Held Back on Account of Scarcity of Material—Three Women Baptised—News of Chester and Vicinity.

During the past few weeks there has been some talk among officials of Hancock and Brooke counties about building a county infirmary to be supported by both counties. The matter has caused no little talk in Chester and those who have been seen favor the plan. The best and cheapest method of keeping the poor has always been a problem and possibly always will be. Without mentioning the details that could be arranged in this matter it would be beneficial to both counties. The expenses would be much less than that at present. In speaking of this matter the Wellsburg Herald says:

No plan will ever be found that will not be objected to, but we see no reason why an establishment, modeled nearly after the plan in the Ohio and Pennsylvania counties on either side of us, might not be what we want. The main objection to Brooke county is the limited population, but that will be in a great degree remedied if Hancock county can see her way to go in with us.

COMPLETED SOON.

Stand Pipe at the Mill Will Be Finished Next Saturday.

The stand pipe at the new mill will be completed by the last of the week, but no use will be made of it until the pump house is completed. It will be many weeks before the foundation for the latter will be completed, as the company is having some trouble in getting brick and cement. The foundation for the office building will not be completed until the last of the week, when the carpenters will commence their part of the work.

thing for us to do, and that is to vote for Judge Nash and maintain the flag and American interests. William Mc-Kinley is the foremost exemplar of these patriotic principles. We have expanded

EAST LIVERPOOL POTTERY FIRE

The Blaze Occurred Late Yesterday Afternoon.

DECORATING SHOPS IN FLAMES

But the Department Put It Out In a Hurry--The Damage Is Large but Is Covered by Insurance--How It Started Is a Mystery--The Fifth Fire at the Pottery.

A small fire occurred yesterday at the East Liverpool pottery, but the damage will amount to almost $2,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

The fire started in the southern end of the decorating shop, but how it originated is a mystery, as there was no blaze of any kind in the decorating shops and the printing presses were operated by steam. Lou Young, head decorator of the plant, was the last man in the shop and he is sure all gas jets were turned out.

The fire was discovered a few minutes after 4 o'clock by W. W. Harker and he at once sent in an alarm. The department responded, so did an immense crowd of people. The smoke was very dense but the department succeeded in getting the fire out in short order.

The dense smoke was caused by the burning of 20 yards of flannel which is used at the printing presses. In addition to the loss of the flannel about $200 worth of color is a complete loss. Two copper plates worth $95, 25 reams of paper, 90 100-piece dinner sets and 35 toilet sets half gilded and printed are also included in the losses. A great deal of green ware in the room under the decorating shop will be ruined by the water. It will all be fired, and until it comes out of the kiln it cannot be told just how much of it is damaged.

The Building.

Every window in the decorating shop is broken and the ceiling will have to be ceiled. The end of the shop will also have to be repaired and the steam and gas connections are damaged.

Will Go to Work.

The place will be cleaned out as soon as possible and the decorators put to work as the firm were behind in their orders and the fire will put them still farther behind.

The Fifth Fire.

This is the fifth fire that has occurred at the pottery. Two of the blazes happened while the plant was owned by George C. Morley.

The East Liverpool Pottery company was burnt out in 1895 and again in 1898. Both blazes were large fires and meant a heavy loss to the concern.

A PUZZLE.

Squire Hill Is Trying to Decide How Much Wright Owes Dinerstein.

A. Dinerstein entered suit in the court of Justice Hill against W. C. Wright for $22.85. Wright appeared and said he would confess judgment for $9 and casts, but Dinerstein wasn't satisfied. Wright then entered a counter claim against Dinerstein for $10. The case was heard this morning, and the squire will render a decision tomorrow.

Read It In the Review.

Saturday afternoon the NEWS REVIEW published the fact that Postmaster W. H. Surles was anxious to find Mrs. Ida McComber, for whom a letter had been returned from the dead letter office. Saturday evening Mrs. Shane, of Walnut street, saw the item and at once went to the post office and secured the letter for her friend, Mrs. McComber. As a medium for reaching the public the NEWS REVIEW speedily demonstrates its value.

THE BUSY WORLD.

What Is Going on Around the Humming Pottery Plants of the City.

Charles Mackey, a kilnhand at the Diamond, had his left hand badly injured yesterday by a cartridge exploding which tore the skin from the palm of his hand. The services of a physician were necessary to dress the injury.

R. M. Bevington left for Fallston this morning, where he will resume his work in the Fallston pottery.

Saturday cars of ware were sent to Seattle, Wash., by the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, and to Memphis by the Thompson pottery. Over 10 carloads of ware were sent out last week.

Charles Knoblock, a packer at Sebring's on Second street, is confined to his home by illness.

John Sant left for Akron this morning for the purpose of visiting the Akron pottery. He will be gone several days.

On Saturday evening upon their return to this place from a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Willison were given a reception at the home of the groom's parents on Avondale street. A number of persons from the Diamond pottery were in attendance.

Mrs. Samuel Welch, who has been spending several weeks in Pittsburgh visiting friends, returned home Saturday evening.

Will T. Darden, of Washington, D. C., is spending several days in the city. He represents the Goodwin Pottery company in the east.

James Pickel left for Beaver Falls today to make casks for the Mayer Pottery company.

Frank M. Commencing in a small way, he has builded up a splendid trade, until he stands at the very head and front of the business in East Liverpool. Good goods, square dealing and reasonable prices have slowly but surely brought him to the front in his special line of trade.

Mr. Fouts has finally determined upon a change of location, and will be found in his new quarters, corner of Broadway and East Market street, the last of the present week. The building is known as the Ryan Bros. block. Mr. Fouts will occupy the two floors, which have been specially fitted up for the grocery and produce business. ### Would Not Say That He Would Manage Canadian Plants.

Robert Burford, who has been in Canada for ten days investigating the two potteries at St. John's, P. Q., returned to the city yesterday morning. He was much impressed with the outlook and this morning said:

"There are two plants in the town, one of which has six kilns, the other but four. All ware now sold in Canada is of English make, and if the company that is now being organized can produce ware at a cheaper price than which the imported ware is sold, the potteries would be started. There is a trade to be had from 7,000,000 people. The plants are in good condition, although they have been idle a year."

Mr. Burford would not say that he would manage the plants but added that if the company would concede to his conditions he might take the position.

EAST LIVERPOOL POTTERY FIRE

The Blaze Occurred Late Yesterday Afternoon.

DECORATING SHOPS IN FLAMES

But the Department Put It Out In a Hurry--The Damage Is Large but Is Covered by Insurance--How It Started Is a Mystery--The Fifth Fire at the Pottery.

A small fire occurred yesterday at the East Liverpool pottery, but the damage will amount to almost $2,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

The fire started in the southern end of the decorating shop, but how it originated is a mystery, as there was no blaze of any kind in the decorating shops and the printing presses were operated by steam. Lou Young, head decorator of the plant, was the last man in the shop and he is sure all gas jets were turned out.

The fire was discovered a few minutes after 4 o'clock by W. W. Harker and he at once sent in an alarm. The department responded, so did an immense crowd of people. The smoke was very dense but the department succeeded in getting the fire out in short order.

The dense smoke was caused by the burning of 20 yards of flannel which is used at the printing presses. In addition to the loss of the flannel about $200 worth of color is a complete loss. Two copper plates worth $95, 25 reams of paper, 90 100-piece dinner sets and 35 toilet sets half gilded and printed are also included in the losses. A great deal of green ware in the room under the decorating shop will be ruined by the water. It will all be fired, and until it comes out of the kiln it cannot be told just how much of it is damaged.

The Building.

Every window in the decorating shop is broken and the ceiling will have to be ceiled. The end of the shop will also have to be repaired and the steam and gas connections are damaged.

Will Go to Work.

The place will be cleaned out as soon as possible and the decorators put to work as the firm were behind in their orders and the fire will put them still farther behind.

The Fifth Fire.

This is the fifth fire that has occurred at the pottery. Two of the blazes happened while the plant was owned by George C. Morley.

The East Liverpool Pottery company was burnt out in 1895 and again in 1898. Both blazes were large fires and meant a heavy loss to the concern.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

Frank M. Fouts, the Popular Grocer, In New Quarters.

Frank M. Fouts, the grocer, well and favorably known in East Liverpool and the surrounding country, has been in the grocery business in this city for the past twenty-two years, and has been located at the same point during all that time. Commencing in a small way, he has built up a splendid trade, until he stands at the very head and front of the business in East Liverpool. Good goods, square dealing and reasonable prices have slowly but surely brought him to the front in his special line of trade.

Mr. Fouts has finally determined upon a change of location, and will be found in his new quarters, corner of Broadway and East Market street, the last of the present week. The building is known as the Ryan Bros. block. Mr. Fouts will occupy the two floors, which have been specially fitted up for the grocery and produce business. The first floor, or basement, is splendidly arranged for stocking goods and keeping in first class condition for the purchasing public. Our townsman extends a cordial invitation to all his old patrons, and the public in general, to visit him in his new quarters.

BURFORD RETURNS FROM CANADA

Would Not Say That He Would Manage Canadian Plants.

Robert Burford, who has been in Canada for ten days investigating the two potteries at St. John's, P. Q., returned to the city yesterday morning. He was much impressed with the outlook and this morning said:

"There are two plants in the town, one of which has six kilns, the other but four. All ware now sold in Canada is of English make, and if the company that is now being organized can produce ware at a cheaper price than which the imported ware is sold, the potteries would be started. There is a trade to be had from 7,000,000 people. The plants are in good condition, although they have been idle a year."

Mr. Burford would not say that he would manage the plants but added that if the company would concede to his conditions he might take the position.

TAMED THE JOCKEYS.

THE MIDGETS EACH HAD A BAD CASE OF SWELLED HEAD.

A Spanking Over a Waiter's Knee Cured One, and an Unceremonious Tumble Into the Ocean Took the Insolence Out of the Other.

"It is a notorious fact," said an old horseman, "that successful jockeys are more afflicted with the big head than any other class of midgets you're liable to meet up with. On two occasions that I recall I've seen American waiters take prominent American jockeys down when the latter have become insufferable in their conduct. Some years ago an eastern jockey whose fame was spread broadcast throughout the racing world was taking dinner with a party of foolishly idolatrous friends at the Cliff House, outside of San Francisco. The jockey had been riding during the winter racing in and around San Francisco, and on this day he had won the swell event of the year on a rather no account horse. Consequently his hat was a whole lot too small for him.

"He was an insulting little chap at best, but on this occasion he simply let his tongue run away with his brains. His humor took the turn of joshing an old time waiter at the Cliff House who had been in California since the days of the Argonauts. The old man had long side whiskers, and the jockey made sundry and divers remarks to the waiter about the opportunity he was giving to the wind by wearing whiskers of that particular length, and the old man took the talk good naturedly without paying much attention to the touch of nastiness in the midget's remarks. Finally, however, when the wine had gone around pretty freely, the jockey reached up behind his chair as the old waiter was in the act of performing some little service for the men at the table, and, twisting his hand in the hair on one side of the old servitor's face, he deliberately pulled out a fairly large handful of the latter's whiskers.

"The old man leaped back with pain and indignation, the jockey laughing at him idiotically. Then the waiter coolly lifted the jockey out of his chair by the scruff of the neck, sat down and calmly deposited the midget across his knees, face downward.

"Son," said the waiter, "there's something that you've stood in need of for a long time past, judging from your actions here during the past few months, and that something you're about to get and get good," and he brought the palm of an ample hand down with a smack that sounded very pleasant indeed unto the ears of all the rest of the people in the room (except the jockey's friends) who had seen the beard pulling incident. Then he brought both hands into play, and the rataplan told of splendid execution. The jockey kicked and struggled, but he couldn't break loose, and he had to take his medicine. Then his friends at the table jumped to his rescue, and, quickly letting the jockey slide on to the floor, the old waiter, thoroughly aroused, jumped up and knocked them down one after the other. He just polished them all off in detail, and when he had got through with them he stood his ground. Then the manager appeared on the scene, and when he was told by a number of other guests, prominent men, what had happened he assisted in kicking the party out of the house.

"Another time a jockey who leaped into prominence with meteoric speed by reason of his winning two of the great events of the eastern turf in quick succession got the worst of it at the hands of a Coney Island waiter. I saw the incident myself. The jockey had had such a mighty accession of the 'I am it' spirit that he considered he could perform all sorts of mean little tricks at the expense of all hands and do the same with impunity. On this day he had won three straight races, and his imperiousness was something monumental. He took dinner with three bookmakers on one of the big Coney Island piers. The man who waited on the party was a bullet head, but a quiet, attentive man at that. He was removing some plates after the second course when the jockey picked up a siphon of seltzer and deliberately squirted half the bottle full in the waiter's face. The waiter wiped his face and his shirt front off with his table towel and then he walked up to the jockey's chair and said:

"Have you had yer dip in de sea yit t'day. Freddy?"

"No," said the jockey, with an expression of surprise on his face, as if he wondered what was coming.

"I t'ought not," said the bullet headed waiter. "Dat's de reason I'm goin' t' let you have it now."

"Then the waiter suddenly picked the famous jockey up, and before any of the men at the table could interfere he carried him over to the railing of the pier and dropped the midget horse rider into the water, about 15 feet below.

"I jist want t' see if de little snoozer wit' de swelled nut kin swim as well as he kin ride a horse," said the waiter, quietly watching the jockey come to the surface and strike out. The jockey could swim, and he made the beach without any trouble, but he didn't return to the pier."—Washington Star.

AMERICAN FRUITS IN CHINA.

How Exports to the Orient May Be Increased.

Consul Johnson writes from Amoy that the condition of the fruit crop in China has little or no effect upon the importation. The tropical fruits do not come into competition with the product of the United States; and in the more northern districts, where northern fruits might be grown, the quality of the products, owing to the ignorance or indifference of the people, places them outside the pale of competition with good fruits.

The only exception to this rule, possibly, consists of grapes grown in the north of China, some varieties of which are excellent.

There is a steadily increasing demand among the natives for foreign fruits, whether canned, dried or preserved. The European population look to these imported fruits almost exclusively to supply their tables. Tinned pears, peaches and apricots come principally from America, while preserved fruits, jams and dried fruits still come largely from Europe. The reason is apparent. The American manufacturer will not, or does not, meet the conditions required. Since there are no peaches or pears in Europe which can compete with those from California, the oriental merchant has no choice; in other lines he is not so restricted. Prunes and raisins are largely used. The dried fruit is put up in bottles and sealed. In no other way can it be shipped to the tropics without great loss, as the humidity of the climate or insects will soon render it unsalable. No fruits, biscuits, crackers or any other food product can be safely shipped to central or southern China or the Philippine Islands without being sealed in glass bottles or tinned. The English and continental merchants and manufacturers understand this and put up their fruits accordingly. If tinned, the tins are either painted or varnished to prevent rust and consequent loss to the merchant.

The American manufacturer has found a market for his product without these extra expenses and is slow to meet the demand. Hence dried fruits, jams and tinned fruits are usually bought in other countries where these necessary details are looked after.

Date Culture In Arizona.

One of the most interesting experiments in which the department of agriculture, says a Washington dispatch, is now engaged is the cultivation of dates in Arizona. A department agent has just returned from the Mediterranean region, where he was sent to study figs and dates, with a view to the introduction of the most adaptable species into Arizona and southern California. Already some very successful efforts have been made in that quarter, particularly in the Salt river bottom, which has a soil too alkaline for ordinary crops. It is well watered from beneath, and the climate is warm, just the conditions most favorable to the cultivation of dates in the Mediterranean region. It is believed they can be profitably as well as successfully grown here. For the most part Americans import a very cheap grade of dates. Taste here has not been cultivated, so that the better varieties, which retail from 20 to 25 cents a pound, find a large market. It is proposed to introduce into the southwest only these better grades, and it is quite possible that before many years this country will produce a good share of its own dates.

A tax of sixpence per head is levied on all passengers landed in the Isle of Man. It is collected from the steam ship companies carrying the passengers.

BEAUTIFUL ORGAN GRINDERS

Five Young Ladies Become Itinerant Musicians at Belmar, N. J.

Five young ladies gave busy Beimar something to talk about the other day. They held up a hotel and several stages with a barrel organ and collected $12.75 for the organ grinder, who would have gone away with only a few pennies if they had not taken the management of his business, says the Philadelphia Times. They were Miss Helen Deal of Philadelphia, Miss Crolins of New York, Miss Ellen Poe, Miss Aikens and Miss Carrie Lefferts of Washington.

They had been watching the unprofitable efforts of the grinder to charm pennies from the pockets of the summer boarders and resolved to aid him. They borrowed the organ and attacked the Columbia, beginning in the parlor, from which they were driven by the proprietress, who had no ear for squeaking "Hello, Ma Honey?" or "I'm the Luckiest Coon In Town."

Then they went forth into the highways and took turns at playing and "passing the hat." Being pretty and persistent, they collected $12.75 in the first tour of Ocean avenue, and, giving the Italian, who followed them at a respectful distance, the even money, they kept 75 cents for ice cream soda as commission.

The swarthy son of sunny Italy went away the happiest hurdy gurdy man on the coast. His whilom partners are the talk of Belmar.

NEW ARMY TRANSPORTS.

Government Remodeling Three Troopships For Eastern Service.

Three army transports which were used by the government in the Cuban and Porto Rican service are being remodeled and will be used hereafter to convey troops to and from the Philippines, says the New York Herald. They are the Logan, the Meade and the Thomas. The cost of the proposed changes will be: For the Logan, $242,000; for the Meade, $220,000, and for the Thomas, $253,000.

It is proposed to make model troopships of the three vessels. Below the main deck on each vessel will be seven tiers of bunks. Each tier will contain three metallic folding bunks with pneumatic mattresses. A big refrigerating plant will be in the hold. The bridge and spar decks will be used for officers' quarters. On the main deck will be quarters of noncommissioned officers, the ship's company, a fire company and a hospital with an isolation ward. Two steam launches swung from davits, four 27 foot lifeboats and eight liferafts will be conveniently placed.

The dining room for officers on the spar deck will accommodate 60 persons, and on this deck also will be writing rooms for officers and men. The work is to be completed by Nov. 1.

AMAZING AGE OF THE EARTH

Scientists Told That It Is at Least 500,000,000 Years Old.

Professor R. A. Fessenden of Alleghany, addressing the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Columbus, O., the other day, concluded that the earth must be at least 500,000,000 years old, says the Chicago Times-Herald.

He said that geologists used to think that there was unlimited time for evolution, but Lord Kelvin showed that the time was not unlimited and must be something like 200,000,000 years. Later he has brought the time down since life was first possible on this planet to less than 50,000,000 years. Lord Kelvin's estimates are based upon certain assumptions, the most important being that the radiation coefficient from the earth has remained constant. If the radiation coefficient was several times larger than at present, the age of the earth would have to be increased very considerably.

A rough estimate of all sources of possible error has led him to the conclusion that we are justified in saying the age of the earth since life was possible on it is not less than 500,000,000 years, perhaps less, and consequently Lord Kelvin is not justified in his statement that life could not have been originated on this earth.

NOVEL CO-OPERATIVE HOME

How Some British Workmen Live on an Ex-Ocean Liner.

An attempt on novel lines to solve the problem of housing workingmen adjacent to their work is being tried at Barrow-In-Furness, Lancashire, England, by Vickers & Maxim, the great shipbuilding firm.

The Alaska, the former Guion liner and first of the Atlantic record breakers, has been purchased, transformed into a temporary workmen's home and anchored off the shipyard, says a London dispatch to the New York World. Excellent sleeping accommodations are provided for 150 men, with dining, reading and recreation rooms, at an inclusive cost for board, lodging, washing and mending clothes of $3 weekly.

The men get breakfast of tea, coffee, eggs, bacon and fish; for dinner, beef, mutton and two vegetables, and for tea, bread and butter, jam, cheese and cold meats. Everything is of the best quality. A man can have a single cabin for 25 cents weekly additional. The Alaska house will be managed on a co-operative plan by a committee appointed by the men and their employers, and all the profit will be applied to reducing the cost of living. It was opened a few days ago.

Funston Is to Go Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—General Frederick Funston received a telegram from the war department offering him a brigadier's command if he would return to the Philippines after his former regiment, the Twentieth Kansas, is mustered out. General Funston accepted the offer.

Typhoid Epidemic at Cape Nome.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 23.—Advices from Cape Nome, Alaska, brought by the steamer Lakme, which left there Oct. 6, are that typhoid fever has broken out in the camp in severe form. The hospital is crowded, there now being 250 patients in it. There have been five deaths and others are expected.

Boy Committed Suicide.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 23.—Charles Slaughter, aged 8 years, committed suicide at his home near Winchester. He poured oil over his clothes and then put a match to them. He was burned in a horrible manner. He had said he wanted to see a big blaze.

J. Hay Brown Sworn In.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 23.—J. Hay Brown was sworn in as a justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Justice Williams. The oath was administered by Judge Livingston.

Blew Open the Safe.

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 23.—Burglars blew open the safe of the J. V. Rose Fire-brick company. The watcher, Harry Brest, had a fierce struggle with one of them. They fled.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Fair and warmer today; tomorrow fair; brisk southerly winds.

Ohio—Fair today, with warmer in eastern portion; tomorrow fair; brisk southerly winds.

EVENTS IN BRIEFS.

Bound for Manila, the cruiser New Orleans sailed from the New York navy yard. She will take the Suez canal course.

Big Four conductors, brakemen, firemen and operators will go out over the entire system if no increase in wages is secured.

General George W. Curtin will not allow the use of his name for the Republican nomination for governor in West Virginia.

Lewis Smith of Jeannette, Pa., a member of Company M, Sixteenth regiment, was fatally injured on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Pat Kennedy of Pennsboro, W. Va., aged 92, who has sold liquor for 70 years, was jailed at Harrisville, charged with maintaining a speakeasy.

Search is being made for the person or body of William Wilcoxen, a farmer, aged 45, who went to Wellsville, O., to see Bill's show and mysteriously disappeared.

The Gibbs & Williams company, printers and lithographers of New York, made an assignment for the benefit of creditors. The company was incorporated in 1898 with a capital stock of $100,000.

The fact that General Miles has gone west on an inspection and hunting trip shows how little basis there was for the published rumors of his being sent to the Philippines to assume the supreme command. It was regarded as certain that General Otis will retain the supreme command unless he meets with a substantial reverse. If that should happen either Miles or Merritt would be taken over the command.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 23.—Dr. Joseph Y. Porter, state health officer, after a careful examination of many cases of fever at Miami recommends a depopulation of that place, the disease being undoubtedly yellow jack.

They were Miss Helen Deal of Philadelphia, Miss Crolins of New York, Miss Ellen Poe, Miss Aikens and Miss Carrie Lefferts of Washington.

They had been watching the unprofitable efforts of the grinder to charm pennies from the pockets of the summer boarders and resolved to aid him. They borrowed the organ and attacked the Columbia, beginning in the parlor, from which they were driven by the proprietress, who had no ear for squeaking "Hello, Ma Honey" or "I'm the Luckiest Coon In Town."

Then they went forth into the highways and took turns at playing and "passing the hat." Being pretty and persistent, they collected $12.75 in the first tour of Ocean avenue, and, giving the Italian, who followed them at a respectful distance, the even money, they kept 75 cents for ice cream soda as commission.

The swarthy son of sunny Italy went away the happiest hurdy gurdy man on the coast. His whilom partners are the talk of Belmar.

NEW ARMY TRANSPORTS.

Government Remodeling Three Troopships For Eastern Service.

Three army transports which were used by the government in the Cuban and Porto Rican service are being remodeled and will be used hereafter to convey troops to and from the Philippines, says the New York Herald. They are the Logan, the Meade and the Thomas. The cost of the proposed changes will be: For the Logan, $242,000; for the Meade, $220,000, and for the Thomas, $253,000.

It is proposed to make model troopships of the three vessels. Below the main deck on each vessel will be seven tiers of bunks. Each tier will contain three metallic folding bunks with pneumatic mattresses. A big refrigerating plant will be in the hold. The bridge and spar decks will be used for officers' quarters. On the main deck will be quarters of noncommissioned officers, the ship's company, a fire company and a hospital with an isolation ward. Two steam launches swung from davits, four 27 foot lifeboats and eight liferafts will be conveniently placed.

The dining room for officers on the spar deck will accommodate 60 persons, and on this deck also will be writing rooms for officers and men. The work is to be completed by Nov. 1.

AMAZING AGE OF THE EARTH

Scientists Told That It Is at Least 500,000,000 Years Old.

Professor R. A. Fessenden of Alleghany, addressing the American Association For the Advancement of Science at Columbus, O., the other day, concluded that the earth must be at least 500,000,000 years old, says the Chicago Times-Herald.

He said that geologists used to think that there was unlimited time for evolution, but Lord Kelvin showed that the time was not unlimited and must be something like 200,000,000 years. Later he has brought the time down since life was first possible on this planet to less than 50,000,000 years. Lord Kelvin's estimates are based upon certain assumptions, the most important being that the radiation coefficient from the earth has remained constant. If the radiation coefficient was several times larger than at present, the age of the earth would have to be increased very considerably.

A rough estimate of all sources of possible error has led him to the conclusion that we are justified in saying the age of the earth since life was possible on it is not less than 500,000,000 years, perhaps less, and consequently Lord Kelvin is not justified in his statement that life could not have been originated on this earth.

NOVEL CO-OPERATIVE HOME

How Some British Workmen Live on an Ex-Ocean Liner.

An attempt on novel lines to solve the problem of housing workingmen adjacent to their work is being tried at Barrow-In-Furness, Lancashire, England, by Vickers & Maxim, the great shipbuilding firm.

The Alaska, the former Guion liner and first of the Atlantic record breakers, has been purchased, transformed into a temporary workmen's home and anchored off the shipyard, says a London dispatch to the New York World. Excellent sleeping accommodations are provided for 150 men, with dining, reading and recreation rooms, at an inclusive cost for board, lodging, washing and mending clothes of $3 weekly.

The men get breakfast of tea, coffee, eggs, bacon and fish; for dinner, beef, mutton and two vegetables, and for tea, bread and butter, jam, cheese and cold meats. Everything is of the best quality. A man can have a single cabin for 25 cents weekly additional. The Alaska house will be managed on a co-operative plan by a committee appointed by the men and their employers, and all the profit will be applied to reducing the cost of living. It was opened a few days ago.

Funston Is to Go Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—General Frederick Funston received a telegram from the war department offering him a brigadier's command if he would return to the Philippines after his former regiment, the Twentieth Kansas, is mustered out. General Funston accepted the offer.

Typhoid Epidemic at Cape Nome.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 23.—Advices from Cape Nome, Alaska, brought by the steamer Lakme, which left there Oct. 6, are that typhoid fever has broken out in the camp in severe form. The hospital is crowded, there now being 250 patients in it. There have been five deaths and others are expected.

Boy Committed Suicide.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 23.—Charles Slaughter, aged 8 years, committed suicide at his home near Winchester. He poured oil over his clothes and then put a match to them. He was burned in a horrible manner. He had said he wanted to see a big blaze.

J. Hay Brown Sworn In.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 23.—J. Hay Brown was sworn in as a justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Justice Williams. The oath was administered by Judge Livingston.

EVENTS IN BRIEFS.

Bound for Manila, the cruiser New Orleans sailed from the New York navy yard. She will take the Suez canal course.

Big Four conductors, brakemen, firemen and operators will go out over the entire system if no increase in wages is secured.

General George W. Curtin will not allow the use of his name for the Republican nomination for governor in West Virginia.

Lewis Smith of Jeannette, Pa., a member of Company M, Sixteenth regiment, was fatally injured on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Pat Kennedy of Pennsboro, W. Va., aged 92, who has sold liquor for 70 years, was jailed at Harrisville, charged with maintaining a speakeasy.

Search is being made for the person or body of William Wilcoxen, a farmer aged 45, who went to Wellsville, O., seen in the Bill's show and mysteriously disappeared.

The Gibbs & Williams company, printers and lithographers of New York, made an assignment for the benefit of creditors. The company was incorporated in 1898 with a capital stock of $100,000.

The fact that General Miles has gone west on an inspection and hunting trip shows how little basis there was for the published rumors of his being sent to the Philippines to assume the supreme command. It was regarded as certain that General Otis will retain the supreme command unless he meets with a substantial reverse. If that should happen either Miles or Merritt would be sent to take over the command.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 23.—Dr. Joseph Y. Porter, state health officer, after a careful examination of many cases of fever at Miami recommends a depopulation of that place, the disease being undoubtedly yellow jack.

SCHENCK ON FORESTRY.

What the Noted Expert Says About Timber.

CUT THE PINE ON GOOD LAND.

Forests Should Be Propagated on Land That Will Grow Timber More Profitably Than Agricultural Products.

Dr. C. A. Schenck, an officer of the forestry administration of the state of Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, said to be one of the ablest forestry experts in the world, is in Minnesota, having come on invitation of the state forestry board. In conversation with a representative of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, Dr. Schenck said:

"From what I have learned, however, I should say that the people of Minnesota need not trouble themselves about the preservation of their forests or fear that they will not have sufficient forest land. I am told that you have vast areas of pine land or barrens that are good for nothing but the growing of timber, and that the natural wood of these lands is the pine."

"It is the Tagalos inhabiting some of the provinces about Manilla who are resisting the authorities of the United States. Other civilized Filipinos are neutral, except where they are coerced by armed bands of Tagalos, who seized upon their governments during the making and ratification of our treaty of peace with Spain.

"The insurrection is not a national uprising. Indeed, there is no Philippine nation.

"The United States having assumed sovereignty over the archipelago becomes responsible for the maintenance of peace and order, the administration of justice, the security of life and property among all the tribes of the archipelago. This is an obligation which intelligent Filipinos, not less than foreign nations, expect us to fulfill. Nor will the national honor permit us to turn back."

Here is plainly the policy of the government, the harmonious opinions of the president, of the admiral and the peace commissioner, and the truth of history sustaining them is absolutely clear.

MORE LAND FOR THE PEOPLE.

One of the Effects That Will Follow Annexation of the Philippines.

We have had a short war and have added materially to our domain. We have more land for the people. We have never added a scrap of territory to that originally obtained from England without finding some cranks in opposition, and sometimes men of extraordinary talent have exercised themselves upon apprehensions about having a big country.

There has been a passion in some far eastern towns for a small country, for a few comparatively small states. The same sort of persons are in a state of agony because we have added a few archipelagoes, the Aleutian, the Hawaiian, the Philippine, for example. There are professional publicists who are lamentable on the subject of annexing islands. See how England has fallen to pieces on account of running after islands!

But we never yet in the United States got a bit of new land that wasn't good for us, and we haven't got any now that we ought not to keep. All the precedents of American history will be disregarded if we don't keep all we have and get more when the chance occurs.

Germany and Brazilian Land.

Neither the state department nor the German embassy has any official advices on the reported acquisition by the German government of a large tract of land in Brazil. The tract is said to be about 1,000 miles square, and there was at first some idea among officials that a governmental transfer of this extent might involve some consideration of the Monroe doctrine. The German minister says, however, that no such acquisition has been made by the German government, and that the report probably grows out of the work of colonization societies in Brazil, some of which are conducted in Germany on the same general lines that foreign colonies are established in the western part of the United States. These, however, are distinctly private enterprises, and have in addition about 80,000 acres of natural forest in the mountains where

Dr. Schenck's plan of forestry perpetuation is getting a scientific test. Dr. Schenck is a young man, but a few years past 30, a lieutenant in the German reserve army and a doctor of philosophy.

THREE GREAT MEN AGREE.

The President, Admiral Dewey and Mr. Schurman Agree on Philippines.

The views of the president, Admiral Dewey and Professor Schurman, chairman of the peace commission, sent out after the attempt of the Malays to run the American army into the sea, are in perfect accord. The president declared unqualifiedly the policy of the government, when at Pittsburg he welcomed home from the seat of war the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers. Admiral Dewey said at Gibraltar of the Philippines, that he would have little to say until the recommendations of the peace commission, of which he was a member, were laid before the president; and the admiral said of Mr. Schurman that he was an able and high-minded man, whose intelligent and conscientious devotion to the task assigned him won his admiration; adding, "we were invariably in accord." Professor Schurman says:

"From what I have learned, however, I should say that the people of Minnesota need not trouble themselves about the preservation of their forests or fear that they will not have sufficient forest land. I am told that you have vast areas of pine land or barrens that are good for nothing but the growing of timber, and that the natural wood of these lands is the pine."

In conversation with a representative of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, Dr. Schenck said:

I am told that you have vast areas of pine land or barrens that are good for nothing but the growing of timber, and that the natural wood of these lands is the pine.

"I would advise the people of Minnesota to cut their pine as fast as they can find a good market for it. But they should use much discretion in so doing. That is where practical scientific forestry is of value. I have no sentiment with regard to forests. It is all a practical, scientific question that must be solved in the best way for every one.

"On all lands that are more valuable for agriculture than for the timber crop that they would grow I would have all the timber cut off and I would not try to perpetuate forests on such lands. They are more valuable for raising agricultural products. But where the land is rocky and the soil is scant and lifeless, where the land would not be as valuable for farming as for the growing of trees, there is the place to be scientific in removing the trees.

"It is nonsense to say that a pine forest will not reproduce itself. It will do so if properly handled. Where the land is good only to raise pine trees the pine timber fit for lumber should be cut off as the market agrees with its removal, but no tree less than ten inches in diameter should be cut down.

These and all smaller growth of the pine should be allowed to stand, just as we throw the small fish back in the water that he may grow. Do you understand? That is the great principle of scientific forestry.

"The trees that you leave standing will be fit to cut in five to ten years. Meanwhile where the big trees have been cut, care having been taken to burn the trimmings from the trees so as to clear the ground and prevent forest fires, young trees of the same species will begin to grow. At first they will be overshadowed by the taller poplars and other trees of a semihard wood that will spring up in the clearings, but the young pine is a thrifty grower, and once he gets his tops above the poplars he will easily outstrip them, and nature in placing them there, instead of injuring the young pine, has merely given him a grateful shade when he is young and tender.

"In your climate I should say that it would take 80 years for a forest to reproduce itself. Meanwhile, practice has shown in countries where forestry reserve principles have been employed that a crop of pine wood that has reproduced itself will yield to the owner of the land a net income during all the years that it has been growing of 2 to 3½ per cent compound interest on the amount of capital invested. Of course, the money will not be realized until the forest is marketed, but it is just as certain as your good government bonds. And all that time the people of the state will have the forest to regulate its water fall, thus irrigating the land and furnishing a pleasant place to sojourn in, while it will help protect and keep in the state the wild game that has its natural home in the pine forest.

Dr. Schenck's plan of forestry perpetuation is getting a scientific test. Dr. Schenck is a young man, but a few years past 30, a lieutenant in the German reserve army and a doctor of philosophy.

SCHENCK ON FORESTRY.

What the Noted Expert Says About Timber.

CUT THE PINE ON GOOD LAND.

Forests Should Be Propagated on Land That Will Grow Timber More Profitably Than Agricultural Products.

Dr. C. A. Schenck, an officer of the forestry administration of the state of Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, said to be one of the ablest forestry experts in the world, is in Minnesota, having come on invitation of the state forestry board. In conversation with a representative of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, Dr. Schenck said:

"From what I have learned, however, I should say that the people of Minnesota need not trouble themselves about the preservation of their forests or fear that they will not have sufficient forest land. I am told that you have vast areas of pine land or barrens that are good for nothing but the growing of timber, and that the ~~most~~ wood of these lands is the pine."

"It is the Tagalos inhabiting some of the provinces about Manilla who are resisting the authorities of the United States. Other civilized Filipinos are neutral, except where they are coerced by armed bands of Tagalos, who seized upon their governments during the making and ratification of our treaty of peace with Spain.

"The insurrection is not a national uprising. Indeed, there is no Philippine nation.

"The United States having assumed sovereignty over the archipelago becomes responsible for the maintenance of peace and order, the administration of justice, the security of life and property among all the tribes of the archipelago. This is an obligation which intelligent Filipinos, not less than foreign nations, expect us to fulfill. Nor will the national honor permit us to turn back."

Here is plainly the policy of the government, the harmonious opinions of the president, of the admiral and the peace commissioner, and the truth of history sustaining them is absolutely clear.

MORE LAND FOR THE PEOPLE.

One of the Effects That Will Follow Annexation of the Philippines.

We have had a short war and have added materially to our domain. We have more land for the people. We have never added a scrap of territory to that originally obtained from England without finding some cranks in opposition, and sometimes men of extraordinary talent have exercised themselves upon apprehensions about having a big country.

There has been a passion in some far eastern towns for a small country, for a few comparatively small states. The same sort of persons are in a state of agony because we have added a few archipelagoes, the Aleutian, the Hawaiian, the Philippine, for example. There are professional publicists who are lamentable on the subject of annexing islands. See how England has fallen to pieces on account of running after islands!

In your climate I should say that it would take 80 years for a forest to reproduce itself. Meanwhile, practice has shown in countries where forestry reserve principles have been employed that a crop of pine wood that has reproduced itself will yield to the owner of the land a net income during all the years that it has been growing of 2 to 3½ per cent compound interest on the amount of capital invested. Of course, the money will not be realized until the forest is marketed, but it is just as certain as your good government bonds. And all that time the people of the state will have the forest to regulate its water fall, thus irrigating the land and furnishing a pleasant place to sojourn in while it will help protect and keep in the state the wild game that has its natural home in the pine forest.

Germany and Brazilian Land. Neither the state department nor the German embassy has any official advices on the reported acquisition by the German government of a large tract of land in Brazil. The tract is said to be about 1,000 miles square, and there was at first some idea among officials that a governmental transfer of this extent might involve some consideration of the Monroe doctrine. The German minister says, however, that no such acquisition has been made by the German government, and that the report probably grows out of the work of colonization societies in Brazil, some of which are conducted in Germany on the same general lines that foreign colonies are established in the western part of the United States. These, however, are distinctly private enterprises, without government connection.

Dr. Schenck's plan of forestry perpetuation is getting a scientific test. Dr. Schenck is a young man, but a few years past 30, a Lieutenant in the German reserve army and a doctor of philosophy.

THREE GREAT MEN AGREE.

The President, Admiral Dewey and Mr. Schurman Agree on Philippines

The views of the president, Admiral Dewey and Professor Schurman, chairman of the peace commission, sent out after the attempt of the Malays to run the American army into the sea, are in perfect accord. The president declared unqualifiedly the policy of the government, when at Pittsburg he welcomed home from the seat of war the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers. Admiral Dewey said at Gibraltar of the Philippines, that he would have little to say until the recommendations of the peace commission, of which he was a member, were laid before the president; and the admiral said of Mr. Schurman that he was an able and high-minded man, whose intelligent and conscientious devotion to the task assigned him won his admiration; adding, "we were invariably in accord." Professor Schurman says:

"It is the Tagalos inhabiting some of the provinces about Manilla who are resisting the authorities of the United States. Other civilized Filipinos are neutral, except where they are coerced by armed bands of Tagalos, who seized upon their governments during the making and ratification of our treaty of peace with Spain.

"The insurrection is not a national uprising. Indeed, there is no Philippine nation.

"The United States having assumed sovereignty over the archipelago becomes responsible for the maintenance of peace and order, the administration of justice, the security of life and property among all the tribes of the archipelago. This is an obligation which intelligent Filipinos, not less than foreign nations, expect us to fulfill. Nor will the national honor permit us to turn back."

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. ### AN AMERICAN OFFICER KILLED.

He and Two Men Wounded in an Attack on a Launch, With General Lawton's Expedition, Near San Isidro—Rebels Fired From Shore.

MANILA, Oct. 28.—8:50 a. m.—An American officer was killed and two men were wounded by the Filipinos in an attack on a launch with General Lawton's expedition in the Rio Chiquita, near San Isidro. The rebels fired volleys from the shore.

General Otis replied to the three insurgent officers who entered Angeles last Friday with a request, made through General MacArthur, for permission for a Filipino commission, headed by a Filipino major general, to visit General Otis to discuss peace terms and to arrange for the delivery of more American prisoners, that the desired interview cannot be granted, because the suggested propositions of the Filipinos are vague, indefinite and unmilitary, and because the Americans must continue to decline to receive any representative of the so-called Filipino government.

GENERAL HOWARD'S SON KILLED.

Word Received That the Officer Was Killed in Action in the Philippines.

OMAHA, Oct. 23.—A cable dispatch received here announced the death in the Philippines on Saturday of Major Guy Howard, son of General O. O. Howard. The cablegram, dated Saturday, was received by Judge J. M. Woolworth, father-in-law of Major Howard, read as follows:

"Guy Howard killed in action today."

Major Howard was well known in Omaha, being on his father's staff when the latter was stationed here. He was married in this city about 15 years ago to Miss Woolworth and the nuptials were a notable society function. Mrs. Howard resides here with her three children.

IOWA BOYS IN FORT.

The Transport, Over Which There Was Worry, Was Not Touched by the Hurricane.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The Fifty-first regiment of Iowa volunteers, numbering 764 men and 46 officers, under the command of Colonel J. C. Loper, arrived here from Manila on the transport Senator. There was no sickness aboard. Edward Kissick, Company F, of Oskaloosa, Ia., died at Nagasaki of dysentery. Three days out from Nagasaki Edwin Statler, Company M, and Homer A. Read, Company A, were injured by the breaking of the after sail, which fell on them. Statler's leg was broken and Read sustained a fracture of the skull. Both men are doing well.

By sailing east instead of taking the northern route, the Senator missed the typhoon which the Empress of India encountered.

Ajutant General Byers and 300 citizens of Iowa met the Senator at the Golden Gate in a number of tugs. They received a royal reception from the volunteers. The men will likely land today.

BIG ORDERS FOR RAILS.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company Distributes Them Among the Federal and Other Companies.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Notwithstanding the high price steel rails are now bringing, the Pennsylvania Railroad company intends to lay in a large quantity and it has now contracted for 100,000 tons.

The bulk of the order has been placed with the eastern steel companies. It is said the Cambria Iron company will furnish 25,000 tons, the Carnegie company 25,000 tons, the Pennsylvania Steel company 25,000 tons and the remainder will be made by the Federal Steel company, though it is believed the Lackawanna company will also get its usual share. The price so be paid is $33 a ton.

These rails are to be of the standard weight and size adopted by this company and deliveries are to begin early next year. The order will require the expenditure of $3,300,000, which is considerably more than was paid last year for all the rail ordered. In round numbers the company contracted for about 150,000 tons of steel rails for this year, most of which did not cost over $19 a ton.

RICH ORE IN PHILIPPINES.

South Dakota Volunteers Brought Back Fine Specimens.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 23.—Evidences of the richness of the Philippine islands in the precious metals have been shown in the Black Hills towns since the return of the three volunteer companies which served a year in the islands.

Captain Paul McClelland of Company I has brought back from Manila a piece of bamboo corked at one end, which contains a very rich piece of decomposed silver ore. An old native said the rich specimens came from a wide ledge, stepping off a distance of about 100 feet when he told the captain the width of it. The sample of ore is nearly half silver. The ledge, the native stated, is about ten miles from Manila. Pieces of rich gold quartz ore have been given the Black Hills boys by the natives which came from Luzon, and the ore resembles very closely the rich free-milling veins of the Black Hills.

Reverend Shey Has Not Said He Will Assist Reverend Weary.

Reverend Shey, of Bridgeport, Conn., sent here by Bishop Leonard, of Cleveland, of the Episcopal church, is undecided as to whether he will remain here. This afternoon he and Reverend Weary went to Georgetown and Fairview, Pa., where they looked over the work to be done by the new pastor. He will not say he will accept the charge until next week.

Twenty-one shot by feudists.

LONDON, Ky., Oct. 23.—The Clay county circuit court was to be opened today at Manchester. Five feudists, Eddy and Floyd Chadwell and Sol, Jim and Tom Grinnin, will be tried for the killing of Deputy Wash Thacker of the Philpot faction. Governor Bradley has troops in readiness to go to the protection of the court immediately upon the request of the judge. Since the last term of court 20 men and 1 woman have been shot.

TRouble for ENGLAND.

Kruger May Invoke Germany's Mediation. Other Nations May Back Kaiser. Intent Hostile.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—A hostile demonstration against Great Britain in the diplomatic field is expected soon. State department officials read with interest the news from various European centers, indicating the restiveness of Germany and France, and that mediation by Germany will be asked by Kruger after a few days in South Africa.

It is believed here that in such an event Germany will have not only the moral support of France, Russia, Italy, Belgium and Holland, but the material aid of those nations in the presentation of a demand for a cessation of hostilities and the adjustment of the South African difficulty by an arbitration tribunal.

The United States, it may be authoritatively stated, will not participate in any such move.

Because the Monroe doctrine forbidding European interference in the western hemisphere carried with it the obligation on the part of the United States to abstain from interference in European affairs; because the United States has already recognized Great Britain as the suzerain party over the South African republic; because a participation in an offer of friendly mediation would involve the United States in any subsequent developments.

State department officials believe that a friendly offer of mediation by the other powers contemplates, if not forcible intervention, a threat of forcible intervention.

TROUBLE FOR ENGLAND.

Kruger May Invoke Germany's Mediation. Other Nations May Back Kaiser. Intent Hostile.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—A hostile demonstration against Great Britain in the diplomatic field is expected soon. State department officials read with interest the news from various European centers, indicating the restiveness of Germany and France, and that mediation by Germany will be asked by Kruger after a few nights in South Africa.

It is believed here that in such an event Germany will have not only the moral support of France, Russia, Italy, Belgium and Holland, but the material aid of those nations in the presentation of a demand for a cessation of hostilities and the adjustment of the South African difficulty by an arbitration tribunal.

The United States, it may be authoritatively stated, will not participate in any such move.

Because the Monroe doctrine forbidding European interference in the western hemisphere carried with it the obligation on the part of the United States to abstain from interference in European affairs; because the United States has already recognized Great Britain as the suzerain party over the South African republic; because a participation in an offer of friendly mediation would involve the United States in any subsequent developments.

State department officials believe that a friendly offer of mediation by the other powers contemplates, if not forcible intervention, a threat of forcible intervention.

He and Two Men Wounded in an Attack on a Launch, With General Lawton's Expedition, Near San Isidro—Rebels Fired From Shore.

MANILA, Oct. 28.—8:50 a. m.—An American officer was killed and two men were wounded by the Filipinos in an attack on a launch with General Lawton's expedition in the Rio Chiquita, near San Isidro. The rebels fired volleys from the shore.

General Otis replied to the three insurgent officers who entered Angeles last Friday with a request, made through General MacArthur, for permission for a Filipino commission, headed by a Filipino major general, to visit General Otis to discuss peace terms and to arrange for the delivery of more American prisoners, that the desired interview cannot be granted, because the suggested propositions of the Filipinos are vague, indefinite and unmilitary, and because the Americans must continue to decline to receive any representative of the so-called Filipino government.

"Guy Howard killed in action today."

Major Howard was well known in Omaha, being on his father's staff when the latter was stationed here. He was married in this city about 15 years ago to Miss Woolworth and the nuptials were a notable society function. Mrs. Howard resides here with her three children.

IOWA BOYS IN PORT.

The Transport, Over Which There Was Worry, Was Not Touched by the Hurricane.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The Fifty-first regiment of Iowa volunteers, numbering 764 men and 46 officers, under the command of Colonel J. C. Loper, arrived here from Manila on the transport Senator. There was no sickness aboard. Edward Kissick, Company F, of Oskaloosa, Ia., died at Nagasaki of dysentery. Three days out from Nagasaki Edwin Statler, Company M, and Homer A. Read, Company A, were injured by the breaking of the after sail, which fell on them. Statler's leg was broken and Read sustained a fracture of the skull. Both men are doing well.

By sailing east instead of taking the northern route, the Senator missed the typhoon which the Empress of India encountered.

BIG ORDERS FOR RAILS.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company Distributes Them Among the Federal and Other Companies.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Notwithstanding the high price steel rails are now bringing, the Pennsylvania Railroad company intends to lay in a large quantity and it has now contracted for 100,000 tons.

The bulk of the order has been placed with the eastern steel companies. It is said the Cambria Iron company will furnish 25,000 tons, the Carnegie company 25,000 tons, the Pennsylvania Steel company 25,000 tons and the remainder will be made by the Federal Steel company, though it is believed the Lackawanna company will also get its usual share. The price so be paid is $33 a ton.

These rails are to be of the standard weight and size adopted by this company and deliveries are to begin early next year. The order will require the expenditure of $3,300,000, which is considerably more than was paid last year for all the rail ordered. In round numbers the company contracted for about 150,000 tons of steel rails for this year, most of which did not cost over $19 a ton.

RICH ORE IN PHILIPPINES.

South Dakota Volunteers Brought Back Fine Specimens.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 23.—Evidences of the richness of the Philippine islands in the precious metals have been shown in the Black Hills towns since the return of the three volunteer companies which served a year in the islands.

Captain Paul McClelland of Company I has brought back from Manila a piece of bamboo cored at one end, which contains a very rich piece of decomposed silver ore. An old native said the rich specimens came from a wide ledge, stepping off a distance of about 100 feet when he told the captain the width of it. The sample of ore is nearly half silver. The ledge, the native stated, is about ten miles from Manila. Pieces of rich gold quartz ore have been given the Black Hills boys by the natives which came from Luzon, and the ore resembles very closely the rich free-milling veins of the Black Hills.

BOERS SHELL DUNDEE

Joubert Also Said to Have Attacked Glencoe.

ANOTHER VICTORY BY BRITISH.

Over 400 Boers Killed at Elandslaagte—British Loss Placed at 150—Boers Fought Bravely, but Were Overcome by Artillery Work and Charges.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—A dispatch arrived announcing that the Boers are shelling Dundee, east of Glencoe, at long range, but that their fire is ineffective.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—It is reported here from Glencoe that the Boer force under Commandant General Joubert has attacked, or is about to attack, the British entrenched position at Glencoe.

LADYSMITH, Oct. 23.—The Boer loss at Elandslaagte was estimated at 400. The Boer commandant, General Kock, died of wounds, after being captured.

GLEOCOE CAMP, Natal, Oct. 23.—Heavy firing is now in progress to the northwest of this camp.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—According to a special dispatch from Glencoe camp the British cavalry while pursuing the defeated Boers were engaged by a strong force of the enemy on the North road. Firing is now in progress.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The war office published the following dispatch to the secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, from the general commanding in Natal, Sir George Stewart White, regarding the engagement at Elandslaagte, between Glencoe and Ladysmith, when the British under General French routed the Transvaal forces under General Jan H. M. Kock, second in command in the Transvaal army, who was himself wounded and captured and has since died:

White, commander at Natal, to the secretary of state for war. Filed Ladysmith, Oct. 22, 10:30 a. m.: "In the action at Elandslaagte yesterday the troops engaged were the following: Cavalry—Fifth Lancers, a squadron of the Fifth Dragoon guards, the Imperial Light Horse and two squadrons of Natal carbineers. Artillery—Twenty-first field battery, Forty-second field battery and the Natal field battery. Infantry—The Devonshire regiment, half a battalion of the Gordon Highlanders and the Manchester regiment. The whole force was under General French, with Colonel Ian Hamilton commanding the infantry.

"I was present in person from 3:30 p. m. to 6:30 p. m., but did not assume direction of the fight, which was left in the hands of General French. Although desultory fighting took place earlier in the day, while reinforcements, sent out later on ascertaining the enemy's strength, were arriving from Ladysmith, the real action did not begin until 3:30 p. m. At that hour the Boers held a position of very exceptional strength, consisting of a rock hill about a mile and a half southeast of Elandslaagte station.

"At 3:30 p. m. our guns took a position on a ridge 4,100 yards from the Boers, whose guns at once opened fire. This fire was generally well directed, but somewhat high. Contrary to previous experiences their shell burst well.

"The Imperial Light Horse moved toward the left of the enemy's position and two squadrons of the Fifth Lancers toward his right. During the artillery duel, mounted Boers pushed out from their left and engaged the Imperial Light Horse. In a few minutes the enemy's guns ceased firing and our artillery was turned on the mounted Boers, who opposed the Imperial Light Horse. The latter at once fell back. After the artillery preparations our infantry advanced to the attack, supported by our guns in the second position. The Devons held the enemy in front while the Manchester regiment and the Gordon Highlanders turned his left flank.

"The Boer guns, although after temporarily silenced, invariably opened fire again on the slightest opportunity and were served with great courage. After several fighting our infantry carried the position. At 6:30 p. m. this was accomplished, the enemy standing his ground to the last with courage and tenacity. The Fifth Lancers and a squadron of the Fifth Dragoon guards charged three times through the retreating Boers in the dark, doing considerable execution. "We captured the Boer camp, with tents, wagons, horses and also two guns. The Boer losses were very considerable, including a number of wounded and unwounded prisoners. Among the former are Gen. Jan Kock and Piet Joubert, nephew of Commanding General Joubert.

"One goods train, with supplies for Glencoe camp, and nine English prisoners, were recovered. Our loss, I regret to say, was heavy. It is roughly computed at 150 killed and wounded.

"The collection of the wounded over a large area in the dark and the arrangements for sending them in have thus far occupied our time and attention. A full list will go to you later.

"Our wounded and those of the enemy are now arriving by trains. Besides Boers, we have many Boers, Germans and prisoners of mixed nationalities. The behavior of our troops and of the colonial forces was admirable."

Late dispatches did not indicate any general incursion of Boers as yet into Lechuanaland. Along the Orange river everything seemed to be quiet. From Colesburg, Cape Colony, it is reported that all the available Burghers of the Orange Free State have been sent north and west.

On the other hand, a messenger from Alwal Nort reported that a large body of Boers was advancing toward the Orange river. Refugees are leaving that town in greater numbers daily. The Boers have mounted a Krupp gun on a bridge commanding the most thickly populated part.

Advices from Cape Town say that a wholesome fear of a rising in Basutoland prevents the Boers invading Cape Colony, and that on the other hand there is considerable excitement at Maseru and other Basuto stations, arising from native apprehensions of Boer attacks.

It appears that colonial news is in some mysterious way supplied to the Boers and that their movements depend largely on intelligence communicated through natives. Disquieting information comes from Herschel and other points in Cape Colony, where the natives are much excited.

The losses in killed and wounded were the subject of pulpit references in all the churches Sunday, especially the Catholic churches, owing to the disasters that befell the Irish Fusiliers.

The vicinity of the war office was crowded all day by anxious inquirers for the latest information. The greatest anxiety and suspense existed regarding the losses at Elandslaagte and as to the fate of the Hussars who pursued the Boers from Glencoe. Among the callers at the war office were the lord chief justice of Ireland, Sir Peter O'Brien, who called for particulars as to the Irish troops; Baron MacNaghton, Lord Stanley, Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India; Mrs. Hammersley, whose husband was wounded at Glencoe; Joseph Chamberlain, Arthur J. Balfour, Lady Randolph Churchill and other well known society women.

Typewritten copies of the reports of General Sir George Stewart White were posted on bulletin boards or read to the crowds amid much enthusiasm, while the additions to the list of killed and wounded at Glencoe were received with manifestations of personal bereavement.

The stream of callers at the war office showed little diminution as the evening advanced. Everybody was gratified to read the kindly message from the queen and disappointed at the absence of news from Glencoe, many arguing that communication must be cut off, as otherwise there would be at least some further intelligence as to the condition of General Symons, who, according to an unconfirmed report, died Saturday of his wounds.

The transports that were due to sail Saturday evening and last evening from Woolwich and Tilbury were detained in consequence of the heavy fog that had enveloped the London district, seriously impeding the embarkation of troops. It was expected that they would leave to-day.

The departure of the last battalions of the Coldstream Guards from Waterloo station Sunday was attended by great crowds, although the fog was so dense that from the sidewalks the troops could scarcely be seen.

Although the fund opened by the lord mayor, Sir John Moore, for the Transvaal refugee has already reached £125,000, his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, and his royal highness, the Duke of Cambridge, chairman of the patriotic relief fund, have addressed petitions to the lord mayor to open a new fund for the widows and orphans of the heroes of the war. This it was expected would be opened today.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—Dispatches received from the front regarding the capture of Elandslaagte show it to have been a brilliant feat of arms. The Boers were strongly entrenched and fought with their wonted bravery. They seized every opportunity of coming into action, and ran to serve their guns whenever they could get a chance.

The British wounded are now being taken to Ladysmith. Every care and attention are also being given to the Boer wounded, who are being dispatched down the country.

KIMBERLEY, Oct. 20.—(By dispatch rider from Orange river.)—This is the sixth day of Kimberley's investment by the enemy. An armored train went out yesterday and found the Boers still in the direction of Spytfontein. Their position is believed to be strong.

Two dispatch riders to Mafeking, Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Harding, were captured by Boers Oct. 15.

Assistant Commissioner Scott shot himself at Seluc, heartbroken at his inability to defend Vryburg, whose inhabitants are disloyal and treacherous.

More spies have arrived. Two Englishmen who had been impressed by the Boers escaped last evening and have just arrived here.

The local tradesmen are proving their loyalty by an agreement to keep down the price of foodstuffs.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—Schiel, a former German officer, who was leading a section of the Boers in the engagement at Elandslaagte, was taken prisoner.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 23.—A message received from Colonel Baden-Powell, in command at Mafeking, dated Oct. 15, says that 53 Boers were killed and a large number wounded in the encounter with his force.

It is believed that the explosion of dynamite at Mafeking, arranged by Colonel Baden-Powell, resulted in very large loss to the Boers, so that it is quite probable that General Cronje will not resume the attack and will perhaps retire altogether.

THE QUEEN MOURNS.

Asks That Condolences Be Sent to the Relatives of Those Who Fell In Battle.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The secretary of state for war, the Marquis of Lansdowne, received the following message from the queen, dated at Balmoral castle:

"My heart bleeds for these dreadful losses again today. It is a great success, but I fear, very dearly bought. Would you convey my warmest and heartfelt sympathy with the near relatives of the fallen and wounded and my admiration of the conduct of those they have lost.

V. R. I."

Typhoid Epidemic In Delaware.

LAUREL, Del., Oct. 23.—Neyer in the history of this peninsula has there been so much typhoid as this year. It has been epidemic in nearly every town. At Sykes island about 30 deaths have occurred and there are scores of people critically ill. Greenwood has an epidemic. Laurel has had more cases than in ten years combined. There were 11 ill in one square at one time. Joseph Elliott, a young man, died here after the third attack. It is thought the refuse from the various canning factories has caused the contagion.

Perished In a Blizzard.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 23.—Nine men perished in the recent blizzard. Five bodies have been recovered, and it is probable this is not half the list. The last body found was that of H. Herald, a sheep herder. The sheep had eaten off his beard, clothing and part of his boots.

Fatal Result of Prizefight.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—William Wilke, aged 19, died about one hour after receiving blows on the nose, jaw and pit of the stomach in a prizefight with Charles Chelius, aged 19, in the basement of the Wilke home. The boys belonged to amateur clubs and fought for a $5 purse. Chelius was arrested.

MITCHELL ON THE TICKET.

Chosen by Pennsylvania Republican State Committee to Take the Place of Adams.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The Republican state ticket is again complete.

Ex-United States senator, ex-member of the lower house of the state legislature, ex-member of the national house of representatives and present Judge of Common Pleas John I. Mitchell of Tioga county was nominated for judge of the superior court by the Republican state committee to fill the vacancy on the party ticket occasioned by the withdrawal of Josiah R. Adams.

Ninety-four of the 110 committee men answered to their names.

Ex-Congressman W. C. Arnold of Clearfield county was on hand with a sentiment from his section in opposition to Judge Mitchell. Ex-Congressman Arnold circulated for several hours among the members of the state committee prior to the meeting, explaining the fact that he did not favor Judge Mitchell, because the ex-senator was kindly looked upon by some people who had been classed as insurgents, but he soon found that his opposition to the will of the leaders was not likely to be productive of successful results, and he refrained from making his objections too prominent.

As soon as the committee was in order Chairman Reeder said that unusual conditions confronted the party representatives, and that it was necessary to name a candidate for judge of the superior court to take the place of Josiah R. Adams, who had yielded to the pressure of public sentiment and retired from the field. Chairman Reeder declared incidentally that Mr. Adams was entitled to great praise for his self-sacrifice in yielding up his candidacy.

General H. H. Bingham, member of congress from the First district of this city, in a brilliant and eloquent speech placed ex-Senator Mitchell in nomination.

As soon as General Bingham had finished his speech Congressman Brunn of Schuylkill county was recognized by Chairman Reeder as a seconder of Judge Mitchell's nomination.

He was followed by ex-State Senator Thomas V. Cooper of Delaware county, who read a letter from V. Gilpin Robinson, asking his friends to stand with the majority in the selection of the candidate. Mr. Robinson had been suggested. Ex-Senator Cooper made an additional seconding speech in behalf of Mitchell, and the motion to make the nomination by acclamation was unanimously carried.

IN MISS WILLARD'S OLD HOME.

W. C. T. U. National Headquarters Will Be In Evanston.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 23.—The W. C. T. U. convention adopted an amendment to the constitution removing the headquarters of the national organization from Chicago, where they have been located for many years, to Evanston, Ills., at Rest cottage, the late home of Frances Willard. The amendment making national organizers members of the executive committee of the union was voted down after considerable debate. Another amendment making state secretaries of the Loyal Temperance Legion ex-officio delegates to the national conventions was carried without opposition.

The afternoon program was largely given over to the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the formation of the union.

BRYAN GONE TO NEBRASKA.

He Made the Last Speech of His Ohio Tour at Sandusky—Spoke at Other Places.

SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 23.—Colonel William J. Bryan closed his Ohio tour here. He then left for Nebraska.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 23.—Judge Smalley presided at the meeting here and presented Mr. McLean, who in turn introduced Mr. Bryan. The Nebraskan referred to the paying of a tax on each telegram for the benefit of "benevolent assimilation," by the mother of the son killed in the Philippines, inquiring as to the disposition of his body. And why? Because the telegraph companies had more influence with a Republican congress than the common people.

FREMONT, O., Oct. 23.—At Fremont a reception committee and a good crowd met the Bryan train at the depot and escorted the visitors to the courthouse square, half a mile distant, where a large crowd had assembled. John R. McLean introduced Mr. Bryan, who thanked the audience for their fealty to the Chicago platform in 1896, and hoped they would give Mr. McLean a greater majority this fall.

The train stopped at Fostoria for a few moments, during which time Mr. Bryan appeared upon the platform in response to calls of the crowd present. There were expressions of kindly greeting, handshaking, and a few references to the campaign of 1896, to all of which Mr. Bryan responded in a conversational way, making no formal speech.

TIFFIN, O., Oct. 23.—In front of the courthouse an audience estimated at 4,000 greeted Mr. Bryan cordially.

At Clyde a large crowd greeted the party, and brief addresses were made by Mr. McLean and Mr. Bryan.

HOT CAMPAIGN FOR NEBRASKA.

Bryan to Tour, and Republicans Have Secured Good Campaigners.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 23.—Beginning tomorrow morning, W. J. Bryan will make the most elaborate county by county and town by town canvass he has ever made in Nebraska, not excepting the year he ran for president. On a special train, he will travel over nearly every line of railroad in the state and will make over 100 speeches, concluding at Lincoln on the Saturday before election, when he will be assisted by ex-Governor Altgeld.

The Republican committee has secured some of the best known campaigners in the country, and the canvass for the two remaining weeks will be as exciting as that of a presidential year.

Congress to Look into Carter Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Congress, it is understood, will be asked to investigate the Carter case and all the facts leading up to the conviction of the former engineer captain. Representative De Armond of Missouri announced his intention of introducing a resolution to have the matter investigated, especially with a view of ascertaining how far Carter's alleged civil associates, the contractors, profited by the frauds, and steps taken by the government to protect itself.

THE EAST END.

HE RAN INTO A DITCH

Charles Herbert Received Many Injuries

WHILE RIDING A BICYCLE

A Small Fire in East End Saturday Afternoon—All Kilns at the National Pottery Topped Out—John Arnold shot a Dog. Another Press For Laughlin's.

Charles Herbert, a presser employed at the East End pottery, met with an accident Saturday that has caused him to look as if he had been fighting in the Philippines. He was riding his bicycle home from work and ran into a ditch.

To start with, the bike was taken to a hospital for repairs. The rider when he struck the ground fractured his left arm in two places above and below the elbow, received several gashes on his right knee, cut his lower hip, was scratched about eyes and nose, and to end with, the little finger of his left hand was knocked out of joint. Herbert now says he will refuse to ride any more this season.

KILNS COMPLETED.

Those at the National Topped Out Saturday Morning.

The last kiln at the National pottery was topped out Saturday morning and everything is now ready to build the floor and furnaces. A force of bricklayers were to go to work on the walls of the clay shops this morning and the contractors are of the opinion this part of the work will be finished within the next two weeks. From a reliable source it is learned a number of applications have been filed with officers of the company by men who want to work at the new plant.

SMALL BLAZE.

Saturday afternoon some papers under a stove in the residence of Aaron McDonald on Virginia avenue, caught fire, and for a time it looked as if the results would be serious. His wife threw several buckets of water on the blaze which had the desired effect. Fireman Terrence was notified, but the wagon was not taken out. The house is within a short distance of the fire station.

ANOTHER PRESS.

One May be Added to Laughlin's New Pottery.

Room has been left in the clay shop of Laughlin's new pottery for another press. There are three presses now in the plant, and another will be installed soon. Everything is about in readiness to start the plant, but the company is experiencing some trouble in securing clay.

Killed the Dog.

Rodger is no more. Rodger is a dog that has been about the East End fire station since March, but Saturday morning Fireman Terrence suggested to John Arnold, of the National pottery, it was time for the dog to be killed, as it had been acting strangely for several days. Arnold took it to the hills, killed it and he is now wearing a medal for excellent marksmanship.

A New Minister.

Rev. N. M. Crowe, of the Second Presbyterian church, preached in Freedom, Pa., yesterday and the pulpit in the East End church was occupied by Dr. Boyce, of Pittsburg. Rev. Crowe returned home today.

The Engine Broke.

The brick plant has again shut down, this time on account of a break in the engine. Superintendent Alex Johnson stated today he was tired of suspending operations on account of breaks and will install a new engine by the first of the year.

WASSMAN HERE.

He Will Take Charge of the Local Freight Office This Week.

George Wassman, the newly appointed freight agent at this point, but for several years freight agent of the Cleveland and Pittsburg road at the Steubenville office, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and spent the evening with T. J. Thomas.

Mr. Wassman will not take charge of the local office for several days yet, and Mr. Thomas will not leave for Cleveland until next week. With the promotion of Thomas six additional promotions were made over the system.

Seven years ago Wassman was a clerk in the local office, serving under Johnathan Rhoads. His advancement has been rapid.

NICE APPLES.

Samuel J. Martin Favors the Faber Shover With Some Samples.

About 36 years ago, on a pleasant day, our townsman, then a resident of West Virginia, filled in leisure time by planting apple trees. On Saturday last he demonstrated the fact that he planted wisely and well, as the writer had the pleasure of testing some most delicious fruit gathered from the trees in question. Send us a bushel of the same pattern, Samuel, as it requires about a measure of this size to fully satisfy the NEWS REVIEW office force.

NO GAMES.

The Football Team Has No Games and the Manager Is Not Booking Any.

The prospect for having any Rugby football games played here this year is not very promising. The eleven has no funds, and the manager will not book any games until there is money enough to pay the expenses of the visiting elevens. The team is not doing much practicing, and it looks as though the sport would die a natural death here.

FIGHT OVER A WILL.

Contest Over a $10,000 Estate by Salem Parties.

LISBON, Oct. 23.—[Special]—The interpretation of certain provisions of the will of the late Martha J. Street, of Salem, has been somewhat simplified by an agreement of the parties. The estate is worth about $10,000. Homer and Harold Street will get half of the estate now. The question whether W. J. Street and wife will get all or half of the income of the remainder is left to court.

RIVERMEN NOT HOPEFUL.

River Falling and no Prospects of Rain In Sight.

Rivermen are much discouraged over the gloomy prospects for getting the millions of bushels of coal out of the Pittsburg harbor. Advices from the headwaters of the two rivers indicate a falling, with little sign of rain.

The marks at the wharf this morning registered 20 inches and stationary.

DON'T LIKE THE METERS

Manufacturers Want to Burn Gas by Contract.

GAS COMPANIES WILL BE ASKED

To Take Out their Meters and Enter Into a Contract With the Potters at So Much Per Kiln—Manufacturers Think They Will Save Money by the Plan.

It is rumored that a number of the potters of the city will request the gas companies to take out meters, and in the future charge so much per kiln for the gas used. The manufacturers are of the opinion that they can save money by burning gas by the contract as the meter system is not at all satisfactory to them. They claim that in using meters they are sometimes compelled to pay almost double what it should cost to fire a kiln and think the contract system would do away with this state of affairs.

They will hold a meeting soon, at which some definite action will be taken. It is not known how the gas companies will take to the idea.

OHIO AND WEST VA. STAVE MANUFACTURERS

The organization decided to keep up the price of staves and it was fixed as follows: No. 1, and 2 staves $14 per thousand and No. 4 staves at $10 per thousand.

The session adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

ONLY ONE ARREST.

Business In the Court of Mayor Bough Is Very Slow.

Michael Malone yesterday morning was drunk and disorderly at the boarding house of Mrs. Stevenson, Broadway. Later in the morning Officer Mahony arrested Malone and he was taken to jail.

Malone is not vicious when is drunk, but persists in singing and annoying every person around him. The mayor fined him $9.60 for making such bad music. He paid up and was released.

McBride, a convict at the state prison, received in December last to serve three years and five months, for an assault, has made a remarkable confession showing him to be, if the confession is true, a high-handed murderer. His confession was made to Warden Wolfer in a letter written Oct. 8th and in it he related the murder of two officers, Joseph Grant and John McNott, at Geneva, Ills., Aug. 29, 1886; the murder of Julia Buckmore, at Geneva; a postoffice robbery and the murder of the marshal of Ossawatomie, Kan.; the burglary of a hardware store and the shooting of a policeman at Guiderock, Neb., and many burglaries and highway robberies.

Carey After Congress.

Speaking of the intention of Attorney J. R. Carey, of Salem, to run for congress next year against Hon. R. W. Taylor, the Herald says: Carey would be as strong as Asa Jones in Mahoning, and would pull as strong a following in Stark as anyone. Of course he would get Columbiana county, the Herald adds.

READ, MARK, LEARN.

Some Pertinent Questions That Can Be Answered With One Reply.

Why is it that in East Liverpool and its suburbs with a combined population of 1,400 there is only one medical preparation which gives statements from residents to back up its representations?

Why is it that Doan's Kidney Pills do this in East Liverpool as in every other town and city of any importance in the Union?

Why is it that there are advertised in every newspaper a dozen remedies and only one can supply local proof, local endorsement of its claims?

The solution of the problem is simple. Only one remedy has the curing and staying power. Other remedies make all kinds of gigantic yet futile efforts to get local proof but the attempt ends in producing a statement or two from places that as far as East Liverpool is concerned might just as well live in the moon.

Here is East Liverpool proof which backs up the merits.

Mrs. William James who lives at 283 Third street, says: "I was troubled off and on for eight years with a weakness of the back and kidneys, a dull aching pain across my loins, up under my shoulder blades and rheumatic pains in my right shoulder. I was very susceptible to changes in the weather and was so bad at times that I could scarcely stand and support my own weight. The trouble affected my nervous system, causing a frequent fluttering of the heart and shortness of breath. I generally resorted to porous plasters, but the relief was only temporary. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and obtained instant relief. The symptoms all left, and there was nothing wrong with my kidneys after the treatment."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

FOR BOTH COUNTIES

Talk of Building a New County Infirmary.

BROOKE COUNTY WANTS HELP

From Hancock—Work at the Mill Being Held Back on Account of Scarcity of Material—Three Women Baptised—News of Chester and Vicinity.

During the past few weeks there has been some talk among officials of Hancock and Brooke counties about building a county infirmary to be supported by both counties. The matter has caused no little talk in Chester and those who have been seen favor the plan. The best and cheapest method of keeping the poor has always been a problem and possibly always will be. Without mentioning the details that could be arranged in this matter it would be beneficial to both counties. The expenses would be much less than that at present. In speaking of this matter the Wellsburg Herald says:

No plan will ever be found that will not be objected to, but we see no reason why an establishment, modeled nearly after the plan in the Ohio and Pennsylvania counties on either side of us, might not be what we want. The main objection to Brooke county is the limited population, but that will be in a great degree remedied if Hancock county can see her way to go in with us.

COMPLETED SOON.

Stand Pipe at the Mill Will Be Finished Next Saturday.

The stand pipe at the new mill will be completed by the last of the week, but no use will be made of it until the pump house is completed. It will be many weeks before the foundation for the latter will be completed, as the company is having some trouble in getting brick and cement. The foundation for the office building will not be completed until the last of the week, when the carpenters will commence their part of the work.

THREE BAPTISED.

Seventh Day Adventists Held a Meeting in Chester Yesterday.

Quite a crowd collected on the river bank while the women were dipped.

EAST LIVERPOOL POTTERY FIRE

The Blaze Occurred Late Yesterday Afternoon.

DECORATING SHOPS IN FLAMES

But the Department Put It Out In a Hurry--The Damage Is Large but Is Covered by Insurance--How It Started Is a Mystery--The Fifth Fire at the Pottery.

A small fire occurred yesterday at the East Liverpool pottery, but the damage will amount to almost $2,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

The fire started in the southern end of the decorating shop, but how it originated is a mystery, as there was no blaze of any kind in the decorating shops and the printing presses were operated by steam. Lou Young, head decorator of the plant, was the last man in the shop and he is sure all gas jets were turned out.

The fire was discovered a few minutes after 4 o'clock by W. W. Harker and he at once sent in an alarm. The department responded, so did an immense crowd of people. The smoke was very dense but the department succeeded in getting the fire out in short order.

The dense smoke was caused by the burning of 20 yards of flannel which is used at the printing presses. In addition to the loss of the flannel about $200 worth of color is a complete loss. Two copper plates worth $95, 25 reams of paper, 90 100-piece dinner sets and 35 toilet sets half gilded and printed are also included in the losses.

A great deal of green ware in the room under the decorating shop will be ruined by the water. It will all be fired, and until it comes out of the kiln it cannot be told just how much of it is damaged.

The Building.

Every window in the decorating shop is broken and the ceiling will have to be ceiled. The end of the shop will also have to be repaired and the steam and gas connections are damaged.

Will Go to Work.

The place will be cleaned out as soon as possible and the decorators put to work as the firm were behind in their orders and the fire will put them still farther behind.

The Fifth Fire.

This is the fifth fire that has occurred at the pottery. Two of the blazes happened while the plant was owned by George C. Morley.

The East Liverpool Pottery company was burnt out in 1895 and again in 1898. Both blazes were large fires and meant a heavy loss to the concern.

A PUZZLE.

Squire Hill Is Trying to Decide How Much Wright Owes Dinerstein.

A. Dinerstein entered suit in the court of Justice Hill against W. C. Wright for $22.85. Wright appeared and said he would confess judgment for $9 and casts, but Dinerstein wasn't satisfied. Wright then entered a counter claim against Dinerstein for $10. The case was heard this morning, and the squire will render a decision tomorrow.

BURFORD RETURNS FROM CANADA

Would Not Say That He Would Manage Canadian Plants.

Robert Burford, who has been in Canada for ten days investigating the two potteries at St. John's, P. Q., returned to the city yesterday morning. He was much impressed with the outlook and this morning said:

"There are two plants in the town, one of which has six kilns, the other but four. All ware now sold in Canada is of English make, and if the company that is now being organized can produce ware at a cheaper price than which the imported ware is sold, the potteries would be started. There is a trade to be had from 7,000,000 people. The plants are in good condition, although they have been idle a year."

Mr. Burford would not say that he would manage the plants but added that if the company would concede to his conditions he might take the position.

TAMED THE JOCKEYS.

THE MIDGETS EACH HAD A BAD CASE OF SWELLED HEAD.

A Spanking Over a Waiter's Knee Cured One, and an Unceremonious Tumble Into the Ocean Took the Insolence Out of the Other.

"It is a notorious fact," said an old horseman, "that successful jockeys are more afflicted with the big head than any other class of midgets you're liable to meet up with. On two occasions that I recall I've seen American waiters take prominent American jockeys down when the latter have become insufferable in their conduct. Some years ago an eastern jockey whose fame was spread broadcast throughout the racing world was taking dinner with a party of foolishly idolatrous friends at the Cliff House, outside of San Francisco. The jockey had been riding during the winter racing in and around San Francisco, and on this day he had won the swell event of the year on a rather no account horse. Consequently his hat was a whole lot too small for him.

"He was an insulting little chap at best, but on this occasion he simply let his tongue run away with his brains. His humor took the turn of joshing an old time waiter at the Cliff House who had been in California since the days of the Argonauts. The old man had long side whiskers, and the jockey made sundry and divers remarks to the waiter about the opportunity he was giving to the wind by wearing whiskers of that particular length, and the old man took the talk good naturedly without paying much attention to the touch of nastiness in the midget's remarks. Finally, however, when the wine had gone around pretty freely, the jockey reached up behind his chair as the old waiter was in the act of performing some little service for the men at the table, and, twisting his hand in the hair on one side of the old servitor's face, he deliberately pulled out a fairly large handful of the latter's whiskers.

"The old man leaped back with pain and indignation, the jockey laughing at him idiotically. Then the waiter coolly lifted the jockey out of his chair by the scruff of the neck, sat down and calmly deposited the midget across his knees, face downward.

"Son," said the waiter, "there's something that you've stood in need of for a long time past, judging from your actions here during the past few months, and that something you're about to get and get good," and he brought the palm of an ample hand down with a smack that sounded very pleasant indeed unto the ears of all the rest of the people in the room (except the jockey's friends) who had seen the beard pulling incident. Then he brought both hands into play, and the rataplan told of splendid execution. The jockey kicked and struggled, but he couldn't break loose, and he had to take his medicine. Then his friends at the table jumped to his rescue, and, quickly letting the jockey slide on to the floor, the old waiter, thoroughly aroused, jumped up and knocked them down one after the other. He just polished them all off in detail, and when he had got through with them he stood his ground. Then the manager appeared on the scene, and when he was told by a number of other guests, prominent men, what had happened he assisted in kicking the party out of the house.

"Another time a jockey who leaped into prominence with meteoric speed by reason of his winning two of the great events of the eastern turf in quick succession got the worst of it at the hands of a Coney Island waiter. I saw the incident myself. The jockey had had such a mighty accession of the 'I am it' spirit that he considered he could perform all sorts of mean little tricks at the expense of all hands and do the same with impunity. On this day he had won three straight races, and his imperiousness was something monumental. He took dinner with three bookmakers on one of the big Coney Island piers. The man who waited on the party was a bullet head, but a quiet, attentive man at that. He was removing some plates after the second course when the jockey picked up a siphon of seltzer and deliberately squirted half the bottle full in the waiter's face. The waiter wiped his face and his shirt front off with his table towel and then he walked up to the jockey's chair and said:

"Have you had yer dip in de sea yit t'day, Freddv?"

"No," said the jockey, with an expression of surprise on his face, as if he wondered what was coming.

"I t'ought not," said the bullet headed waiter. "Dat's de reason I'm goin' t' let you have it now."

"Then the waiter suddenly picked the famous jockey up, and before any of the men at the table could interfere he carried him over to the railing of the pier and dropped the midget horse rider into the water, about 15 feet below.

"I just want t' see if de little snoozer wit' de swelled nut kin swim as well as he kin ride a horse," said the waiter, quietly watching the jockey come to the surface and strike out. The jockey could swim, and he made the beach without any trouble, but he didn't return to the pier."—Washington Star.

AMERICAN FRUITS IN CHINA.

How Exports to the Orient May Be Increased.

Consul Johnson writes from Amoy that the condition of the fruit crop in China has little or no effect upon the importation. The tropical fruits do not come into competition with the product of the United States; and in the more northern districts, where northern fruits might be grown, the quality of the products, owing to the ignorance or indifference of the people, places them outside the pale of competition with good fruits.

The only exception to this rule, possibly, consists of grapes grown in the north of China, some varieties of which are excellent.

There is a steadily increasing demand among the natives for foreign fruits, whether canned, dried or preserved. The European population look to these imported fruits almost exclusively to supply their tables. Tinned pears, peaches and apricots come principally from America, while preserved fruits, jams and dried fruits still come largely from Europe. The reason is apparent. The American manufacturer will not, or does not, meet the conditions required. Since there are no peaches or pears in Europe which can compete with those from California, the oriental merchant has no choice; in other lines he is not so restricted. Prunes and raisins are largely used. The dried fruit is put up in bottles and sealed. In no other way can it be shipped to the tropics without great loss, as the humidity of the climate or insects will soon render it unsalable. No fruits, biscuits, crackers or any other food product can be safely shipped to central or southern China or the Philippine Islands without being sealed in glass bottles or tinned. The English and continental merchants and manufacturers understand this and put up their fruits accordingly. If tinned, the tins are either painted or varnished to prevent rust and consequent loss to the merchant.

The American manufacturer has found a market for his product without these extra expenses and is slow to meet the demand. Hence dried fruits, jams and tinned fruits are usually bought in other countries where these necessary details are looked after.

Date Culture in Arizona.

One of the most interesting experiments in which the department of agriculture, says a Washington dispatch, is now engaged is the cultivation of dates in Arizona. A department agent has just returned from the Mediterranean region, where he was sent to study figs and dates, with a view to the introduction of the most adaptable species into Arizona and southern California. Already some very successful efforts have been made in that quarter, particularly in the Salt river bottom, which has a soil too alkaline for ordinary crops. It is well watered from beneath, and the climate is warm, just the conditions most favorable to the cultivation of dates in the Mediterranean region. It is believed they can be profitably as well as successfully grown here. For the most part Americans import a very cheap grade of dates. Taste here has not been cultivated, so that the better varieties, which retail from 20 to 25 cents a pound, find a large market. It is proposed to introduce into the southwest only these better grades, and it is quite possible that before many years this country will produce a good share of its own dates.

A tax of sixpence per head is levied on all passengers landed in the Isle of Man. It is collected from the steamship companies carrying the passengers.

BEAUTIFUL ORGAN GRINDERS

Five Young Ladies Become Itinerant Musicians at Belmar, N. J.

Five young ladies gave busy Belmar something to talk about the other day. They held up a hotel and several stages with a barrel organ and collected $12.75 for the organ grinder, who would have gone away with only a few pennies if they had not taken the management of his business, says the Philadelphia Times. They were Miss Helen Deal of Philadelphia, Miss Crolins of New York, Miss Ellen Poe, Miss Aikens and Miss Carrie Lefferts of Washington.

They had been watching the unprofitable efforts of the grinder to charm pennies from the pockets of the summer boarders and resolved to aid him. They borrowed the organ and attacked the Columbia, beginning in the parlor, from which they were driven by the proprietress, who had no ear for squeaking "Hello, Ma Honey!" or "I'm the Luckiest Coon in Town."

Then they went forth into the highways and took turns at playing and "passing the hat." Being pretty and persistent, they collected $12.75 in the first tour of Ocean avenue, and, giving the Italian, who followed them at a respectful distance, the even money, they kept 75 cents for ice cream soda as commission.

The swarthy son of sunny Italy went away the happiest burdy gurdy man on the coast. His whilom partners are the talk of Belmar.

NEW ARMY TRANSPORTS.

Government Remodeling Three Troopships For Eastern Service.

Three army transports which were used by the government in the Cuban and Porto Rican service are being remodeled and will be used hereafter to convey troops to and from the Philippines, says the New York Herald. They are the Logan, the Meade and the Thomas. The cost of the proposed changes will be: For the Logan, $242,000; for the Meade, $220,000, and for the Thomas, $253,000.

It is proposed to make model troopships of the three vessels. Below the main deck on each vessel will be seven tiers of bunks. Each tier will contain three metallic folding bunks with pneumatic mattresses. A big refrigerating plant will be in the hold. The bridge and spar decks will be used for officers' quarters. On the main deck will be quarters of noncommissioned officers, the ship's company, a fire company and a hospital with an isolation ward. Two steam launches swung from davits, four 27 foot lifeboats and eight liferafts will be conveniently placed.

The dining room for officers on the spar deck will accommodate 60 persons, and on this deck also will be writing rooms for officers and men. The work is to be completed by Nov. 1.

AMAZING AGE OF THE EARTH

Scientists Told That It Is at Least 500,000,000 Years Old.

Professor R. A. Fessenden of Alleghany, addressing the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Columbus, O., the other day, concluded that the earth must be at least 500,000,000 years old, says the Chicago Times-Herald.

He said that geologists used to think that there was unlimited time for evolution, but Lord Kelvin showed that the time was not unlimited and must be something like 200,000,000 years. Later he has brought the time down since life was first possible on this planet to less than 50,000,000 years. Lord Kelvin's estimates are based upon certain assumptions, the most important being that the radiation coefficient from the earth has remained constant. If the radiation coefficient was several times larger than at present, the age of the earth would have to be increased very considerably.

A rough estimate of all sources of possible error has led him to the conclusion that we are justified in saying the age of the earth since life was possible on it is not less than 500,000,000 years, perhaps less, and consequently Lord Kelvin is not justified in his statement that life could not have been originated on this earth.

The Alaska, the former Guion liner and first of the Atlantic record breakers, has been purchased, transformed into a temporary workmen's home and anchored off the shipyard, says a London dispatch to the New York World. The men get breakfast of tea, coffee, eggs, bacon and fish; for dinner, beef, mutton and two vegetables, and for tea, bread and butter, jam, cheese and cold meats. Everything is of the best quality. A man can have a single cabin for 25 cents weekly additional. The Alaska house will be managed on a co-operative plan by a committee appointed by the men and their employers, and all the profit will be applied to reducing the cost of living. It was opened a few days ago.

SCHENCK ON FORESTRY.

What the Noted Expert Says About Timber.

CUT THE PINE ON GOOD LAND.

Forests Should Be Propagated on Land That Will Grow Timber More Profitably Than Agricultural Products.

Dr. C. A. Schenck, an officer of the forestry administration of the state of Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, said to be one of the ablest forestry experts in the world, is in Minnesota, having come on invitation of the state forestry board. In conversation with a representative of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, Dr. Schenck said:

"From what I have learned, however, I should say that the people of Minnesota need not trouble themselves about the preservation of their forests or fear that they will not have sufficient forest land. I am told that you have vast areas of pine land or barrens that are good for nothing but the growing of timber, and that the natural wood of these lands is the pine."

"I would advise the people of Minnesota to cut their pine as fast as they can find a good market for it. But they should use much discretion in so doing. That is where practical scientific forestry is of value. I have no sentiment with regard to forests. It is all a practical, scientific question that must be solved in the best way for every one."

"On all lands that are more valuable for agriculture than for the timber crop that they would grow I would have all the timber cut off and I would not try to perpetuate forests on such lands. They are more valuable for raising agricultural products. But where the land is rocky and the soil is scant and lifeless, where the land would not be as valuable for farming as for the growing of trees, there is the place to be scientific in removing the trees."

"It is nonsense to say that a pine forest will not reproduce itself. It will do so if properly handled. Where the land is good only to raise pine trees the pine timber fit for lumber should be cut off as the market agrees with its removal, but no tree less than ten inches in diameter should be cut down. These and all smaller growth of the pine should be allowed to stand, just as we throw the small fish back in the water that he may grow. Do you understand? That is the great principle of scientific forestry."

"The trees that you leave standing will be fit to cut in five to ten years. Meanwhile where the big trees have been cut, care having been taken to burn the trimmings from the trees so as to clear the ground and prevent forest fires, young trees of the same species will begin to grow. At first they will be overshadowed by the taller poplars and other trees of a semihard wood that will spring up in the clearings, but the young pine is a thrifty grower, and once he gets his tops above the poplars he will easily outstrip them, and nature in placing them there, instead of injuring the young pine, has merely given him a grateful shade when he is young and tender."

"In your climate I should say that it would take 80 years for a forest to reproduce itself. Meanwhile, practice has shown in countries where forestry reserve principles have been employed that a crop of pine wood that has reproduced itself will yield to the owner of the land a net income during all the years that it has been growing of 2 to 3½ per cent compound interest on the amount of capital invested. Of course, the money will not be realized until the forest is marketed, but it is just as certain as your good government bonds. And all that time the people of the state will have the forest to regulate its water fall, thus irrigating the land and furnishing a pleasant place to sojourn in, while it will help protect and keep in the state the wild game that has its natural home in the pine forest."

Dr. Schenck is on a furlough from Germany and he has been engaged some time as superintendent of Vanderbilt's forest at Biltmore, North Carolina. Mr. Vanderbilt has 8,000 acres of forest that was planted and is the result of man's ingenuity, and he has in addition about 80,000 acres of natural forest in the mountains where

Dr. Schenck's plan of forestry perpetuation is getting a scientific test. Dr. Schenck is a young man, but a few years past 30, a lieutenant in the German reserve army and a doctor of philosophy.

THREE GREAT MEN AGREE.

The President, Admiral Dewey and Mr. Schurman Agree on Philippines

The views of the president, Admiral Dewey and Professor Schurman, chairman of the peace commission, sent out after the attempt of the Malays to run the American army into the sea, are in perfect accord. The president declared unqualifiedly the policy of the government, when at Pittsburgh he welcomed home from the seat of war the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers. Admiral Dewey said at Gibraltar of the Philippines, that he would have little to say until the recommendations of the peace commission, of which he was a member, were laid before the president; and the admiral said of Mr. Schurman that he was an able and high-minded man, whose intelligent and conscientious devotion to the task assigned him won his admiration; adding, "we were invariably in accord." Professor Schurman says:

"It is the Tagalos inhabiting some of the provinces about Manilla who are resisting the authorities of the United States. Other civilized Filipinos are neutral, except where they are coerced by armed bands of Tagalos, who seized upon their governments during the making and ratification of our treaty of peace with Spain."

"The insurrection is not a national uprising. Indeed, there is no Philippine nation."

"The United States having assumed sovereignty over the archipelago becomes responsible for the maintenance of peace and order, the administration of justice, the security of life and property among all the tribes of the archipelago. This is an obligation which intelligent Filipinos, not less than foreign nations, expect us to fulfill. Nor will the national honor permit us to turn back."

Here is plainly the policy of the government, the harmonious opinions of the president, of the admiral and the peace commissioner, and the truth of history sustaining them is absolutely clear.

MORE LAND FOR THE PEOPLE.

One of the Effects That Will Follow Annexation of the Philippines.

We have had a short war and have added materially to our domain. We have more land for the people. We have never added a scrap of territory to that originally obtained from England without finding some cranks in opposition, and sometimes men of extraordinary talent have exercised themselves upon apprehensions about having a big country.

There has been a passion in some far eastern towns for a small country, for a few comparatively small states. The same sort of persons are in a state of agony because we have added a few archipelagoes, the Aleutian, the Hawaiian, the Philippine, for example. There are professional publicists who are lamentable on the subject of annexing islands. See how England has fallen to pieces on account of running after islands!

But we never yet in the United States got a bit of new land that wasn't good for us, and we haven't got any now that we ought not to keep. All the precedents of American history will be disregarded if we don't keep all we have and get more when the chance occurs.

Germany and Brazilian Land.

Neither the state department nor the German embassy has any official advices on the reported acquisition by the German government of a large tract of land in Brazil. The tract is said to be about 1,000 miles square, and there was at first some idea among officials that a governmental transfer of this extent might involve some consideration of the Monroe doctrine. The German minister says, however, that no such acquisition has been made by the German government, and that the report probably grows out of the work of colonization societies in Brazil, some of which are conducted in Germany on the same general lines that foreign colonies are established in the western part of the United States. These, however, are distinctly private enterprises, without government connection.

Would Not Parley Again With the Rebels.

AN AMERICAN OFFICER KILLED.

He and Two Men Wounded in an Attack on a Launch, With General Lawton's Expedition, Near San Isidro—Rebels Fired From Shore.

MANILA, Oct. 28.—8:50 a. m.—An American officer was killed and two men were wounded by the Filipinos in an attack on a launch with General Lawton's expedition in the Rio Chiquita, near San Isidro. The rebels fired volleys from the shore.

General Otis replied to the three insurgent officers who entered Angeles last Friday with a request, made through General MacArthur, for permission for a Filipino commission, headed by a Filipino major general, to visit General Otis to discuss peace terms and to arrange for the delivery of more American prisoners, that the desired interview cannot be granted, because the suggested propositions of the Filipinos are vague, indefinite and unmilitary, and because the Americans must continue to decline to receive any representative of the so-called Filipino government.

GENERAL HOWARD'S SON KILLED.

Word Received That the Officer Was Killed in Action in the Philippines.

OMAHA, Oct. 23.—A cable dispatch received here announced the death in the Philippines on Saturday of Major Guy Howard, son of General O. O. Howard. The cablegram, dated Saturday, was received by Judge J. M. Woolworth, father-in-law of Major Howard, read as follows:

"Guy Howard killed in action today."

Major Howard was well known in Omaha, being on his father's staff when the latter was stationed here. He was married in this city about 15 years ago to Miss Woolworth and the nuptials were a notable society function. Mrs. Howard resides here with her three children.

IOWA BOYS IN PORT.

The Transport, Over Which There Was Worry, Was Not Touched by the Hurricane.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The Fifty-first regiment of Iowa volunteers, numbering 764 men and 46 officers, under the command of Colonel J. C. Loper, arrived here from Manila on the transport Senator. There was no sickness aboard. Edward Kissick, Company F, of Oskaloosa, Ia., died at Nagasaki of dysentery. Three days out from Nagasaki Edwin Statler, Company M, and Homer A. Read, Company A, were injured by the breaking of the after sail, which fell on them. Statler's leg was broken and Read sustained a fracture of the skull. Both men are doing well.

By sailing east instead of taking the northern route, the Senator missed the typhoon which the Empress of India encountered.

Adjutant General Byers and 300 citizens of Iowa met the Senator at the Golden Gate in a number of tugs. They received a royal reception from the volunteers. The men will likely land today.

BIG ORDERS FOR RAILS.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company Distributes Them Among the Federal and Other Companies.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Notwithstanding the high price steel rails are now bringing, the Pennsylvania Railroad company intends to lay in a large quantity and it has now contracted for 100,000 tons.

The bulk of the order has been placed with the eastern steel companies. It is said the Cambria Iron company will furnish 25,000 tons, the Carnegie company 25,000 tons, the Pennsylvania Steel company 25,000 tons and the remainder will be made by the Federal Steel company, though it is believed the Lackawanna company will also get its usual share. The price so be paid is $33 a ton.

These rails are to be of the standard weight and size adopted by this company and deliveries are to begin early next year. The order will require the expenditure of $3,300,000, which is considerably more than was paid last year for all the rail ordered. In round numbers the company contracted for about 150,000 tons of steel rails for this year, most of which did not cost over $19 a ton.

RICH ORE IN PHILIPPINES.

South Dakota Volunteers Brought Back Fine Specimens.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Oct. 23.—Evidences of the richness of the Philippine islands in the precious metals have been shown in the Black Hills towns since the return of the three volunteer companies which served a year in the islands.

Captain Paul McClelland of Company I has brought back from Manila a piece of bamboo cored at one end, which contains a very rich piece of decomposed silver ore. An old native said the rich specimens came from a wide ledge, stepping off a distance of about 100 feet when he told the captain the width of it. The sample of ore is nearly half silver. The ledge, the native stated, is about ten miles from Manila. Pieces of rich gold quartz ore have been given the Black Hills boys by the natives which came from Luzon, and the ore resembles very closely the rich free-milling veins of the Black Hills.

UNDECIDED.

Reverend Shey Has Not Said He Will Assist Reverend Weary.

Reverend Shey, of Bridgeport, Conn., sent here by Bishop Leonard, of Cleveland, of the Episcopal church, is undecided as to whether he will remain here. This afternoon he and Reverend Weary went to Georgetown and Fairview, Pa., where they looked over the work to be done by the new pastor. He will not say he will accept the charge until next week.

Twenty-one shot by feudists.

LONDON, Ky., Oct. 23.—The Clay county circuit court was to be opened today at Manchester. Five feudists, Eddy and Floyd Chadwell and Sol, Jim and Tom Grinnin, will be tried for the killing of Deputy Wash Thacker of the Philpot faction. Governor Bradley has troops in readiness to go to the protection of the court immediately upon the request of the judge. Since the last term of court 20 men and 1 woman have been shot.

TROUBLE FOR ENGLAND.

Kruger May Invoke Germany's Mediation.

Other Nations May Back Kaiser. Intent Hostile.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A hostile demonstration against Great Britain in the diplomatic field is expected soon. State department officials read with interest the news from various European centers, indicating the restiveness of Germany and France, and that mediation by Germany will be asked by Kruger after a few days in South Africa.

It is believed here that in such an event Germany will have not only the moral support of France, Russia, Italy, Belgium and Holland, but the material aid of those nations in the presentation of a demand for a cessation of hostilities and the adjustment of the South African difficulty by an arbitration tribunal.

The United States, it may be authoritatively stated, will not participate in any such move.

Because the Monroe doctrine forbidding European interference in the western hemisphere carried with it the obligation on the part of the United States to abstain from interference in European affairs; because the United States has already recognized Great Britain as the suzerain party over the South African republic; because a participation in an offer of friendly mediation would involve the United States in any subsequent developments.

State department officials believe that a friendly offer of mediation by the other powers contemplated, if not forcible intervention, a threat of forcible intervention.
